In Wake Of Demonstrations

Reaction Rises Against Protests Of Viet Policy

Hanoi Says U.S. Might Quit In Viet

Communists Point To Demonstrations Protesting Policy

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Viet Nam's Communist leaders believe the protests in the United States against American involvement in Viet Nam may force the United States to quit the war, informed sources said today.

The Communists are deriving "undue comfort" from the protests, said one recent visitor to Hanoi who spoke with officials there.

"They have become victims of their own propaganda," he said.

Despite the massive U.S. military buildup in South Viet Nam, the Communists apparently feel the U.S. government may back down on its commitment because of opposition in America to the Vietnamese war.

Many in Saigon regard this as one reason why North Viet Nam has refused to be drawn into peace talks and has appeared to stiffen its resistance to negotiations.

Some observers see signs that the North Vietnamese interpret the demonstrations as indications that President Johnson may be losing popular support for his Vietnamese policy, or never had this support.

"It is easy to understand how this can happen," said one source. "The people in North Viet Nam have been cut off from the rest of the world for years. They are told only what the government wants them to know."

7 Miles West Of Clinton

Local Youth, 20, Killed When Two Autos Collide

A two - car collision on U.S. Route 30, seven miles west of Clinton, Pa., claimed the life of George Wooten, 20, of 121 Washington St. Tuesday.

Wooten died at City Hospital at 5:40 p.m. shortly after his car collided with an auto operated by Frank Oswald, 53, of 19 Steubenville Pike, McKees Rocks, Pa. Wooten suffered multiple injuries of the head, chest and left wrist.

Oswald was treated and released at Ohio Valley Hospital, McKees Rocks. He received lacerations of the face.

THE ACCIDENT happened at 4:40 p. m. when Wooten, heading west, attempted to pass a truck on a slight bend in a no passing zone, officers said. After Wooten got into the left lane, he apparently noticed Oswald's auto approaching, applied the brakes and skidded sideways into the path of the Oswald car.

Trooper Lloyd Oudinot of the Carnegie State Police barracks investigated. He reported the road surface was dry and that speed, apparently had caused the Wooten vehicle to skid.

Oudinot said Oswald apparently escaped more serious injuries because he used a seat belt.

The Wooten car was a total loss, while the damage to Oswald's 1965 auto was estimated at $1,200.

MR. WOOTEN was born in Pike County, Ky., Jan. 24, 1945, and was the son of Wilburn Wooten and Pearly Talbert Wooten.

He lived here for 18 years and attended the East Liverpool schools. He was employed at the M & A Motors Co. here.

In addition to his parents, he leaves 10 brothers, William Wooten and Charles Wooten, both of Pike County, John Wooten, Clarence Wooten and Robert Wooten, all of East Liverpool, Raymond Lee Wooten of Philadelphia, Ray Allen Wooten, Herbert Wooten, Basil Wooten and Jesse Wooten all at home; six sisters, Mrs. Ida May Mullins of Pike County, Mrs. James (Corina) Stealey of East Liverpool, Mrs. Janice McDade of Youngstown, Miss Amy Hetty Wooten, Miss Marie Wooten and Miss Donna Kay Wooten, all at home.

Services will be held Friday at 3 p. m. at the East Liverpool Arner Home for Funerals by the Rev. C. J. Schlosser of the First Church of the Nazarene. Burial will be in the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday afternoon and night.

Organizers Of Marches Plan More

Ike Asked To Take Part In Effort To Counteract Move

By The Associated Press

A ground swell of American reaction is developing against demonstrations protesting U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

The reaction began building after the anti-Viet Nam demonstrations reached a crescendo this past weekend. Organizers of the movement vowed more protests, including a march on Washington.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said Tuesday he had been asked to take part in one effort to counteract the demonstrations.

He said the protests "do our country a disservice," but declined to say immediately if he would participate.

College students — from whose ranks most of the peace marchers sprang — are planning programs to show their support for American combat troops. Among them is a blood drive at Washington State University.

The national Jaycees are planning a massive program to counter the anti-Viet Nam demonstrations.

The 2,500-member Huntsville, Ala., Post 2702 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has launched "Operation Sweet Tooth" to show American fighting men that folks back home care.

Plans for a parade down Fifth Avenue in New York City are being mapped by the newly formed Citizens Committee to Support American Viet Nam Efforts.

Eisenhower, visiting a cattle sale in Culpeper, Va., at first declined to discuss the demonstrations.

Then he said: "I will say this: they were very silly and based on ignorance without knowledge of the continuing threat of communism to this country.

"Now, I believe in free speech, but these people do our country a disservice and, as I have said before, I support the President and his policy in Viet Nam."

An organization of about 75 students at Michigan State University, headed by William Webb, a junior from Detroit, has launched a drive to get 15,000 student signatures on a petition supporting President Johnson.

"There are only about 80 students opposing the war in Viet Nam," he said. "We want to show how many support it."

Petitions are also being circulated at West Virginia State College. Student Council President Glen Knapp said he hopes to get 1,800 signatures supporting the American fighting men.

Committee Springs Surprise, Too

Klan's Imperial Wizard Dodges Probers' Queries

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton kept silent today under a fire of questions from congressional investigators about where the Ku Klux Klan money goes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton pulled a surprise on members of the House Committee on Un-American Ativities — and they apparently pulled a surprise on the Ku Klux Klan leader.

They produced bank records, income tax returns and a handwriting expert Tuesday to try to prove there was some financial hanky-panky going on within the Klan, with Shelton's wife using a Klan account under a disguised name.

Then Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., gave Shelton and his wife a chance to think things over before facing more questions today.

Shelton's lieutenants sat in neat business suits watching stonily as their leader took shelter under the Constitution 73 times in refusing to answer questions about the Klan or its money.

The Klansmen may not have been surprised, but the committee was.

A source said Shelton and his lawyer walked into the committee offices on the eve of the hearing opening and promised to cooperate, "to tell about the Klan and what he hopes to do with it."

If so, Shelton obviously changed his mind.

There was surprise on the faces of the investigators when, almost at the first crack of the bat, Shelton refused to identify Georgia Klan incorporation papers under his name. He also refused, despite a warning from Willis that he was on "thin ice," to turn over subpoenaed records.

In refusing, he started a day-long ritual of invoking the protection not only of the Fifth Amendment, but the First, Fourth and Fourteenth amendments.

Willis told newsmen afterward he hoped Shelton's performance wouldn't set a Fifth Amendment pattern for the Klan hearings.

"I am very hopeful that other people who feel like I do will say 'who's afraid of the big bad wolf'," he said.

The sharp-faced 36-year-old Alabamian, a diamond ring glittering on his left hand, generally was expressionless as the questions came, often in the Southern drawls of Willis, Rep. Joe R. Pool, D-Tex., and Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga.

Shelton refused to tell anything about financial records, to admit he was the imperial wizard or to answer Pool's question, "Are you ashamed to be a member of the Klan'?"

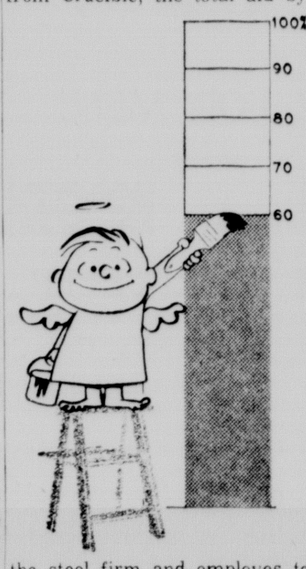
During the morning Shelton listened to committee investigators tell about locating 381 Klan Klaverns in a search constantly hampered by many Southerners' fear of the Klan.

"These people fear harassment, threatening letters, telephone calls, cross burnings on their property, beatings, bombings, and, yes, even death," said chief investigator Donald T. Appell.

United Fund Boosted With Crucible Gift

A contribution of $26,700 from employes of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. has boosted the United Fund collections to $67,300, or 60 per cent of the goal, Richard Martin, campaign chairman, has announced.

With a $7,800 corporate gift from Crucible, the total aid by the steel firm and employes to the fund drive is $34,500, Martin said.



With 2½ weeks of the campaign past, the current drive is well ahead of the $29,973 collection of a year ago at this time.

A goal of $115,000 has been set to aid 12 area agencies. It is hoped the campaign can be completed by the end of October, Martin said.

Reports from division leaders are expected at a meeting of the United Fund trustees, officers and campaign officials Monday night at 7:30 at the YMCA.

Other recent contributions included $2,875 from the First National Bank and $250 from the Travelers Hotel.

Suffers Heavy Casualties

Viet Cong Opens 2 Major Attacks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong launched two big attack on government troops in South Viet Nam's central highlands during the night and suffered heavy casualties.

A U.S. Army helicopter was shot down during one of the battles and the four Americans aboard were killed. An estimated 150-200 guerrillas were killed in the two actions.

Supported by heavy air attacks, a force of 500 mountain tribesmen and 10 American advisers was holding off hundreds of guerrillas laying siege to a Special Forces camp at Plei Me, about 17 miles from the Cambodian border.

The Viet Cong had lost an estimated 60 to 100 men but kept up their attack throughout the day. Casualties among the defenders were reported light.

U.S. advisers said government troops beat off attacks by two Viet Cong battalions in a fierce battle in the Ba Long valley, about 400 miles north of Saigon near the North Viet Nam border.

The advisers reported 94 Viet Cong bodies had been counted and "they're still counting." Vietnamese casualties were described as light.

"You know they were hurt badly when they left so many of their dead lying around," said one American. "You can rest assured they carried some more away."

Guerrilla bodies were strewn in the mud and barbed wire around the government outpost.

The Viet Cong tried to cross a moat with a bamboo bridge but a mine detonated from the main outpost stopped them.

The government forces also took one wounded captive, a regular North Vietnamese soldier who told intelligence officers that he was with the Viet Cong 800th Battalion which rendezvoused two days ago west of Hue. He said he came from North Viet Nam six months ago with other Hanoi regulars to fill out the battalion.

Air Pollution Bill Approved By Johnson

To Require Exhaust Controls On Cars Beginning In 1968

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed into law in his hospital bedroom today a bill to fight air poliution and require exhaust controls on all cars beginning with 1968 models.

A delegation of about a dozen congressmen, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and secretary of welfare John Gardner looked on as the President signed the measure.

Johnson read a brief statement saying that since the industrial revolution "we have been systematically polluting our air," with automobiles alone now discharging enough carbon monoxide every day to pollute the combined areas of Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Jersey. He said this poses a health problem "that is national in scope."

The legislation also creates a federal program of research and technical aid to seek ways to disposing of the millions of tons of solid waste that the nation generates each year.

The President is recovering from an operation Oct. 8 for removal of his gall bladder and a kidney stone. He may find out from the doctors today how soon he can leave the hospital.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Tuesday the physicians wanted to make a routine examination of their patient today. After that, he said, he might be able to supply some information on the hospital departure time.

But in any event, Moyers is standing by a prediction that "it will take longer for the President to recuperate than anyone thought."

The press secretary said Tuesday night Johnson probably would be discharged from the hospital sometime this week, spend a brief time at the White House and then go down to his Texas ranch for a longer period of convalescence.

Doctors Say Johnson Can Leave Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson got word from his doctors today that he can leave the hospital any time after tonight. Presidential secretary Bill D. Moyers said that Johnson will remain at Bethesda Naval Hospital tonight and he will have further word later on when the President plans to leave.

3 Killed In Fresh Fighting

Rumors Fly In Domingo Of Threatened Uprising

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Rumor flew in Santo Domingo today that the Dominican Republic's provisional government is threatened with overthrow.

Lights burned late in government offices following fresh bursts of fighting Tuesday in the heart of the capital. Three persons were killed and seven wounded in shooting between rebel snipers and army troops before fighting subsided in the afternoon.

President Hector Garcia-Godoy held an emergency Cabinet session and met far into the night with his staff in an effort to stem the upsurge of violence.

He also met with the former rebel chief, Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, and appealed to him to try to halt the rebel sniping.

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, top trouble-shooter for the Organization of American States, hurried back to Santo Domingo from Washington. He played a key part in the agreement under which the provisional government was established in early September to end the April rebellion.

An aide to Garcia-Godoy described everything as normal at the president's home. But the president postponed a radio-television appearance after army units ringed the government's Radio Santo Domingo and prevented transfer of mobile television equipment to the National Palace.

Miller Faces Hearing In Draft Card Burning

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP)—David J. Miller, 22, faces a hearing Friday on whether he will be returned to New York City to answer to an indictment charging him with burning his draft card.

Miller, from Syracuse, N.Y., was freed in $500 bail Tuesday from Hillsboro County jail.

On his release, Miller was asked by a reporter whether he had burned his draft card and not some other card and he replied: "It was my draft card—and I burned it."

Board Given Till Nov. 5 To Answer Suit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The all-Republican State Apportionment Board has until Nov. 5 to answer a suit filed by Senate Democratic Leader Frank W. King of Toledo to nullify its "official" reapportionment of the Ohio Legislature.

The state appellate court, before which the suit was filed, meanwhile temporarily suspended action Tuesday to put the board's plan into effect pending settlement of the suit.

King filed his court suit after Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe contended the board plan is official pending final determination on reapportionment by a special three-judge federal court in Cincinnati.

From all indications, the board plan is just one of a dozen being considered by the three judges who ordered reapportionment on the basis of the U. S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" edict.

Among the actions ordered suspended by the state court was the placing of newspaper advertisements required for four consecutive weeks in metropolitan newspapers to make such a reapportionment official.

In Klansman's Murder Trial

High Court Ruling Asked On Juror Selection Law

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A young Ku Klux Klansman's murder trial may be put off until spring unless the Alabama Supreme Court can hand down a speedy ruling today on a juror selection law.

The question asked of the Supreme Court: Can jurors who say they regard Negroes and white civil rights workers as inferior be dismissed from the trial on grounds they are prejudiced?

The Klansman, Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, of Fairfield, Ala., is charged with the slaying of a white civil rights worker, Viola Liuzzo, last March 25 near Hayneville.

Mrs. Liuzzo, a 39-year-old Detroit housewife and mother of five children, was killed as she ferried Negroes back to Selma after they staged a 50-mile march on the Alabama Capitol.

Circuit Judge T. Werth Thagard said the trial in Hayneville, 28 miles west of here, must resume by this afternoon or be rescheduled next May.

Thagard called a 24-hour recess Tuesday to permit the chief prosecutor, Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers, to appeal for a ruling on the question of prejudice to the high court.

Mayor Praises Turk In Airport Land Offer

Mayor George E. Willshaw today praised Mike Turk of Thompson Ave. for "an unselfish civic gesture" in offering whatever land is necessary at Swaney Airport to help clear the way for establishment of a Columbiana County Airport.

"I was very pleased to learn of Mr. Turk's offer yesterday," the mayor said. "I feel it will be a big factor in helping pinpoint Swaney Airport as the site of the new county facility."

Turk, an auto agency operator with interests in other business lines, said he believes a modern airport is vital for county industrial development.

Mayor Seeks 'Spook Night' On Lone Date

Mayor George E. Willshaw today requested East Liverpool youngsters to limit their Halloween "trick or treat" rounds to a single date — Saturday, Oct. 30.

The mayor pointed out the traditional "spook night" actually falls on Sunday night, Oct. 31, considered inappropriate for the costumed parading and mild pranks. And the city's attention will enter Friday night, Oct. 29, on a street dance which will be held on E. 5th St. following the East Liverpool - Weirton high school football game, he said.

Willshaw also said he hopes there will not be an influx of "trick or treat" seekers from districts far outside East Liv-

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP)—David J. Miller, 22, faces a hearing Friday on whether he will be returned to New York City to answer to an indictment charging him with burning his draft card.

Miller, from Syracuse, N.Y., was freed in $500 bail Tuesday from Hillsboro County jail.

On his release, Miller was asked by a reporter whether he had burned his draft card and not some other card and he replied: "It was my draft card—and I burned it."

Board Given Till Nov. 5 To Answer Suit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The all-Republican State Apportionment Board has until Nov. 5 to answer a suit filed by Senate Democratic Leader Frank W. King of Toledo to nullify its "official" reapportionment of the Ohio Legislature.

The state appellate court, before which the suit was filed, meanwhile temporarily suspended action Tuesday to put the board's plan into effect pending settlement of the suit.

King filed his court suit after Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe contended the board plan is official pending final determination on reapportionment by a special three-judge federal court in Cincinnati.

From all indications, the board plan is just one of a dozen being considered by the three judges who ordered reapportionment on the basis of the U. S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" edict.

Among the actions ordered suspended by the state court was the placing of newspaper advertisements required for four consecutive weeks in metropolitan newspapers to make such a reapportionment official.

In Klansman's Murder Trial

High Court Ruling Asked On Juror Selection Law

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A young Ku Klux Klansman's murder trial may be put off until spring unless the Alabama Supreme Court can hand down a speedy ruling today on a juror selection law.

The question asked of the Supreme Court: Can jurors who say they regard Negroes and white civil rights workers as inferior be dismissed from the trial on grounds they are prejudiced?

The Klansman, Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, of Fairfield, Ala., is charged with the slaying of a white civil rights worker, Viola Liuzzo, last March 25 near Hayneville.

Mrs. Liuzzo, a 39-year-old Detroit housewife and mother of five children, was killed as she ferried Negroes back to Selma after they staged a 50-mile march on the Alabama Capitol.

Circuit Judge T. Werth Thagard said the trial in Hayneville, 28 miles west of here, must resume by this afternoon or be rescheduled next May.

Mayor Praises Turk In Airport Land Offer

Mayor George E. Willshaw today praised Mike Turk of Thompson Ave. for "an unselfish civic gesture" in offering whatever land is necessary at Swaney Airport to help clear the way for establishment of a Columbiana County Airport.

"I was very pleased to learn of Mr. Turk's offer yesterday," the mayor said. "I feel it will be a big factor in helping pinpoint Swaney Airport as the site of the new county facility."

Turk, an auto agency operator with interests in other business lines, said he believes a modern airport is vital for county industrial development.

Mayor Seeks 'Spook Night' On Lone Date

Mayor George E. Willshaw today requested East Liverpool youngsters to limit their Halloween "trick or treat" rounds to a single date — Saturday, Oct. 30.

The mayor pointed out the traditional "spook night" actually falls on Sunday night, Oct. 31, considered inappropriate for the costumed parading and mild pranks. And the city's attention will enter Friday night, Oct. 29, on a street dance which will be held on E. 5th St. following the East Liverpool - Weirton high school football game, he said.

Willshaw also said he hopes there will not be an influx of "trick or treat" seekers from districts far outside East Liv-

Sukarno, Aides Determined To Hold Peking Ties

JAKARTA (AP) — President Sukarno and leaders of his government today were reported determined to maintain the Peking-Jakarta axis Sukarno proclaimed last August.

After a meeting of the president and the other three members of his cabinet presidium, Third Deputy Premier Chaerul Saleh told newsmen they had discussed the preservation and strengthening of solidarity with friendly countries, notably Red China.

"We are also aware," Saleh said, "that American imperialists are now making efforts to dissassociate Indonesia from its close friend, People's (Communist) China, but our close relations with China couldn't be easily broken by American imperialism."

The Indonesian army, which in effect is ruling Indonesia now, has been cracking down on the Indonesian Communist party, accusing it of involvement in the Oct. 1 coup attempt. Peking has been charged with backing the rebels.

Sailors deserted 500 ships in the San Francisco Bay during July in 1850 to join the California Gold Rush.

Cranmer Will Give Welcome

Democrats Advance Plans For Dinner Event Oct. 27

Mayor Dean Cranmer of Salem will give the welcome address at the annual Columbiana County Democratic Jefferson - Jackson Day dinner Oct. 27, Don R. Gosney, county party chairman, announced today.

Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien will be the principal speaker at the event at Beaver Local High School.

Gosney returned late Tuesday night from a meeting of some 100 state and county party chairman at Washington at which they received briefings from top government officials, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Gosney, who has promoted an Ohio county chairmen's organization and who has been urging a nationwide party chairmen's group, said the idea was received with enthusiasm at yesterday's sessions.

There were 40 of the 50 state chairmen present, he said. The event was sponsored by the Democratic National Committee.

Further plans for the party dinner were announced by Gosney, who will be toastmaster. Auditor Kenneth Bell will introduce county officials and the mayoralty candidates of each community will introduce the city candidates.

"The Four Cousins," a Beaver Local High School vocal group, will sing.

Plans for the dinner, at which Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District Congressman, also will speak, will be completed at a meeting of the county party executive and central committees Thursday night at 8 at the headquarters in Lisbon.

Homicide Seen In Youth's Death

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Clermont County authorities say the death of Robert Elkins, 20, was homicide and they are trying to trace the movements of the former soldier at the Felicity Nike-Hercules base since his separation from the service.

Elkins was found on a highway north of Felicity early Sunday and died the following day without regaining consciousness. Dr. A. A. Gruber, coroner, said Tuesday Elkins had received a blow on the head that fractured his skull.

Sheriff Donald Watson said Elkins apparently had been living in Springfield and came to Felicity last weekend to see acquaintenances. Watson said his deputies have not been able to establish exactly where Elkins lived or what he had been doing since his discharge last Dec. 14.

An Absence Of Communication

It is a terrible thing when some American must lay down their lives on foreign battlefields while others stage noisy demonstrations against the military draft at home.

No one can gloss it over to make it seem less terrible than it is. It was terrible when a few Americans bucked military service in previous wars, too.

And it is made no better when windy solons pop off in Washington with bristling threats about what they might do when everybody knows there's nothing they can do because it's not the kind of problem legislation can solve.

The truth is that in both the House of Representatives and the Senate there has been enough misgiving about the current war in Viet Nam to keep the State Department's lights burning all night until the end of the year.

But legislators' doubts have been blanketed and smothered.

It is not so easy to blanket and smother the doubts of younger men subject to the military draft, especially at a time when young men of that age are in a ferment of unrest anyway.

And if some of their unrest is needled by agitators for Communist causes, as is being alleged by some watchdogs of national security, that is just that much worse than if all the unrest were homegrown.

But in any event, a certain amount of doubt, skepticism and outright dissent could be expected under the circumstances. There has been a deplorable absence of clear communication between the American people as a whole and government officials responsible for conducting the war in Viet Nam.

The officials, it must be assumed, are of one clear mind among themselves. It is noteworthy, however, that this has not been proclaimed until recently—and even now it is not known what they are in agreement about other than their sturdy opposition to demonstrations against the military draft by people who say they do not agree with U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Mr. Johnson's Bitter Truth

It is more than happenstance that little boys who used to want to be president when they grew up would rather be 10 other things today.

The little boys who used to think being president would be wonderful learned otherwise from watching what happened to the incumbents. They finally figured out why Calvin Collidge did not choose to run. They saw Herbert Hoover ride into the sunset, a heartbroken man. They saw what happened to Franklin Roosevelt when he over-reached himself by trying to pack the Supreme Court.

They took note of Harry Truman's decision to go back to Missouri. They are still feeling hollow inside over John Kennedy's martyrdom to violence.

And now there is the dismal experience of Lyndon Johnson's convalescence from surgery. He isn't feeling good and says so.

Anyone but a president of the United States could take his sweet time about recovering from an operation. The rule about these things is that a patient who says he is feeling as good as new in less than a year is a juvenile or a liar.

But Mr. Johnson, having built up a kind of superman image, is supposed to feel good anyway. The stock market needs him, the State Department needs him, the Pentagon needs him, everybody wants him to be tip-top faster than a chairman can bang his gavel and say, "Motion carried."

But Mr. Johnson, neither a juvenile nor a liar, does not feel good.

This causes grave concern. It puts him on the defensive for, of all things, not feeling good. And because little boys learn about these things, it is one more negative element in their outlook on the presidency.

As Mr. Truman has been pointing out, he cannot understand why anyone wants the job. A man can't even convalesce on his own terms. He's supposed to feel good when he feels the way all truthful, aging convalescents feel — terrible.

A Place In Which To Live

While the trustees of the Ohio State University are making up their minds about what kind of a presidential mansion the university should have, it might help them to look into the state of mind that caused mansions to be built in the past.

When lumber and masonry were cheaper than they are now, a mansion was a status symbol. The country is full of sprawling structures that no one can afford to live in. Many have been torn down to save money. Many have been fobbed off on nonprofit orgaanizations for various purposes—to be torn down later.

The mansions that have survived are sparsely occupied by unhappy people who rattle around in them, closing doors to save heat, turning out lights to save electricity and striving to create enough coziness in one corner of an architectural wasteland to constitute the semblance of a home.

Mansions are wonderful places to entertain in and to show tourists around in at so much a head but poor places to live in. As living places, they have been out of style for half a century. Even the White House is on the defensive.

With a view to Ohio State University presidents of future years who will need a place to live, why don't the trustees authorize the generous, well-heeled alumni who want a prestige mansion to build one solely for receptions, parties and assorted presidential-size, plus a comfortable house somewhere else for OSU presidents and their ladies to live in?

Oh yes, plus a foundation for the mansion, to maintain it and operate it in all the years to come.

Purely Personal Piffle

By Truman Twill

When last-day vandals were through, nothing was left of 90,000 chrysanthemums planted on the grounds of the New York World's Fair for the permanent park to be established on the site. Employes wept and cajoled, but nice ladies just kept stuffing the plants in their handbags, roots and all.

It saddens me to read accounts of fights inside church organizations where, of all places, you'd think religious precepts and peace among men might be taken to heart.

One of the worst effects of the double standard for justice in states like Alabama will be the determination of Negroes to return the disfavor if they get the upper hand, which is what the whites are afraid of — the Golden Rule in reverse.

Watching a one-time great entertainer demonstrate on a recent TV show that he had outstayed his welcome, I thought how often this happens — to entertainers, football coaches, politicians, boxers, even friends. There's a time to go, and the trick is to go — right then.

In the New York City election campaign, polls show the Democratic machine candidate weaker than the combined strength of the Republican and the Conservative, but stronger than the Republican alone, which is the pattern of Republican opposition to Democratic candidates — the inability of Republicans to quit fighting each other long enough to fight Democrats.

It sounds tough, and it would be, but I think the federal government should relocate Cuban exiles arriving in Miami, Fla. Too many of them settling down in one city could become an indigestible lump, not only for Miami but for the United States.

Whenever romanticists moon over Indian Summer, I remind them it probably got its name from the way Indians raided settlements just before the real winter closed in and made further scalping parties unfeasible until spring.

After living through a couple of wars, you get the hang of it. The first battle is to shut the mouths of the people who want to ask questions because it is disloyal to ask questions — see?

The most important detail of President Johnson's health now is the kidney stone that wasn't removed. It looms larger than the stone that was removed and the excised gall bladder that was the reason for surgery in the first place—larger because it could cause trouble any time —big trouble.

"I said it was none of their business how much money you make, and I certainly let them know it was plenty!"

What A Camel's Back!

The Saga Of Tough Tony Pro

By Victor Riesel

UNION CITY, N.J. — Yon cash-on-the-table Anthony Provenzano has a lean and hungry look. But only because he has been dieting. He is, in fact, the world's highest paid labor leader.

Victor Riesel

In fact, by totaling at least $120,200 annually he tops the President of the U.S. by $20,000. And I will not digress here to analyze the additional thousands of dollars Mr. (Tony Pro or Tough Tony) Provenzano receives in expenses, allowances and reimbursements for travel.

The latter item is not insignificant. You see, the air in this industrial town sometimes is so disagreeable to Tough Tony that he must spend considerable time in Florida. And not at last year's hotel, either.

OF COURSE, Tough Tony's desire for fresher climes is understandable.

Mr. Pro, who holds several Teamsters' posts, has been convicted of extorting a large sum from a trucking company, and faces seven years in the federal penitentiary. He is out on bail though the Supreme Court already has refused to hear his appeal.

The saga of Tough Tony's financial career is fascinating. Several years ago, not too long after he became president of the big Teamsters' Local 560, with the blessing of James Riddle Hoffa, Tony became discouraged with being in a rut which paid him only some $400 weekly. Shortly after his re-election, Dec. 1962, he ran a membership meeting in a Hoboken night spot to which came 300 members of the union's 13,000.

It was a beer hall putsch. His supporters understood his intellectual travail. They voted him a $25,000-a-year raise. But still Mr. Pro's enthusiasts did not think the money was worthy of the man. So they voted him a $50,000-a-year increase the next time.

This brought his actual total to $96,200 a year.

This is in addition to the $12,000 yearly he receives as 12th vice-president of the Teamsters' Brotherhood plus $12,000 he gets from the presidency of the Teamsters Joint Council 73 covering New Jersey.

In all, without expenses, the statistics show the money due him to be $120,200 annually — or $20,000 more than the salary paid President Johnson. This is in addition to a pension which tops the President's.

But Tough Tony, when questioned, retorted he did not take all the money — such as the $75,000 annual raise. So, this reporter checked the federal files.

The documents reveal that William Shakespeare (member of an early writers' guild) is positively correct in his analysis of Mr. Hoffa's modern Cassius.

"HE THINKS TOO MUCH, such men are dangerous," Mr. Shakespeare did say.

The document inspected by this reporter is the form each union must file with the Labor Dept. under the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act. On it is Item 17. It asks: "Did your organization have any contingent liabilities?"

The answer: "Yes. See Page I of attached rider." Additional information on the rider discloses that one of the contingent liabilities which the union swears it has is: "(e) the increase in the salary of Local Union 560's president, as provided by several monthly membership resolutions, has not been paid."

In other words, the union admits it owes Tough Tony the $75,000 annual wage increase since the nights the sums were voted. Obviously the total now is in the area of $225,000. Why is Mr. Pro piling up the money?

The crusading leaders of the opposition to Tough Tony have a simple explanation. When he goes to prison he will not be able to draw his $21,200 a year formal salary.

But he will be able to demand what is legally his — the back pay voted him by the membership meetings. And he will have enough to see him through the seven-year prison term.

A sort of prison insurance, isn't it?

Farm Bill Called Political Payoff

By Henry J. Taylor

As this rubber-stamp Congress sloshes toward adjournment, splattering more red ink on the public, President Johnson's four-year farm bill puts political venality on a long-term basis—for sure. The average man loses again.

Our wheat surplus has been cut to about 646 million bushels from 802 million a year ago. Corn stocks are down from 742 million bushels to 531 million.

Federal grain storage and handling charges are a speedometer on the change. These alone are down $63 million a year from 1960. In fact, surplus government grain bins in some areas are so unusable that 50 in Iowa are being converted into sheds and shops for Job Corps camps.

But who would know it?

The cotton picture is different. Cotton exports are down about 40 per cent below last year. Government cotton stocks are up to nearly the all-time high of 14½ million bales. This is about a full year's total production.

Domestic and export subsidies and government above-market loans to farmers on this one crop alone will cost nearly $1 billion this year.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON and all the rest claim they are battling against our "balance of payments problem"—which is just a soft definition for our gold crisis.

Yet, even the Department of Agriculture admits that if the cotton crop were liberated into the channels of trade it would reduce our balance of payments deficit approximately $500 million a year.

Farming is hard work, essential work, and this particular writer was brought up on it. The hazards are there, sometimes cruel, and the adage that "a farmer's work is never done" is entirely true.

But when our politicians talk about our government being "of the people, by the people, for the people," they should be talking about 196 million people. Are they?

Today, we have fewer than 15 million people living on farms—less than 8 per cent of our population. Nevertheless, each year President Johnson's four-year farm bill will cost the whole population more than $4 billion.

The people's money delivered to the 8 per cent covers the growing of wheat, feed trains, cotton, rice, wool and dairy products.

In the cases of wheat and wool it gives higher cash payments without any change in today's lower market prices, "to improve growers' income." Cash going directly to farmers will exceed $1.5 billion a year.

Yet, why to farmer? If the same man who is a farmer ran a shoe store he wouldn't get a nickel. Nor would a doctor, a dentist, a seamstress or any other man or woman in business for himself. This is representative government?

Under the former system in the political paradise known as our farm program, the government, in effect, sold surplus crops to taxpayers as a whole and voted the cash to the growers only after the government (that's us) suffered the loss on the surplus crops.

The four-year-bill guards against any possibility of market improvement by putting the direct cash outlay on a long-term basis. The politicians merely shout to the farmers, like a chuckwagon cook to cowpokes on the range, "Come and get it!"

DEMOCRATIC Sen. Spessard L. Holland of Florida, a member of the agriculture committee, courageously summarized the final effect while the "yea" votes raked in the political spoils.

"The bill contributes to the abandonment of any reasonable program for the assistance of America's farmers," he stated.

This monument to political venality was voted 219 to 150 when it reached the House, another monument to the special interests.

The brazen political payoff in the attempted repeal of the right to work laws is another. Both are typical, for I'm certainly not singling out the farmer.

There's nothing new in the way politicians pander to special interests—"You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours." But as this political venality grows each year what happens to representative government?

Representative government (and the cost of it) which is as dedicated to special interests as ours has grown today is not representative government at all.

It is a government that leaves the average citizen to carry the load, fed to and lonely, while the politicians go their merry, merry way.

'Demonstrations'

By David Lawrence

Communist Influence Reported

Net effect of "demonstrations" urging an end to war in Viet Nam will be to prolong it.

Communists in Southeast Asia are being given the impression the United States government is weakening and eventually will give up the struggle. Peace parleys now will be deferred, and the fighting will go on.

For several months, the Federal Bureau of Investigation has been gathering information about a Communist plan to start demonstrations in mid-October throughout this country.

At least 18 cities from coast to coast have seen student demonstrations against the war in Viet Nam, carried out in line with plans made by communist leaders in advance.

This doesn't mean all participants of the six or more organizations involved are members of the Communist party or even sympathizers. Communist technique is to send agents out into the colleges and universities to ascertain the names of students with pacifist leanings.

Most pacifists drawn into the situation are unaware of the Communist intrigue behind the protest movements.

NOT ALL activity has been confined to the United States. Pro-Communist newspapers in Uruguay have published advertisements featuring the call for demonstrations.

Newspapers in Panama received circulars urging mass demonstrations before U.S. Embassies on Oct. 15 and 16.

A committee for action on Viet Nam was formed in Toronto to coordinate demonstrations in Canada for mid-October.

The Mexican Communist party told members and groups under its domination to organize United Nations asking for "an end to Yankee intervention in Viet Nam."

Leftist movements in Argentina are reported to have planned demonstrations. In Brussels, demonstrators carried signs reading, "U.S.A., out of Viet Nam."

Other demonstrations were held in Tokyo and London.

Already, the Communist Chinese propaganda organ, Peiping People's Daily, has praised student demonstrations in the United States.

It has declared the protests are "a sign of the rapid growth of the political consciousness of the American people" and the demonstrations have "struck fear into the hearts of those in power in the United States."

A North Vietnamese group has sent a message to one of the committees which sponsored demonstrations in this country, expressing hope that protests will force President Johnson to accept the terms of the Hanoi government for negotiations.

In Moscow, the Soviet newspaper, Izvestia, carried a headline: "Americans Ashamed of America. Washington is Alarmed." No mention was made of Communist connection with the demonstrations.

ALL THIS indicates a concerted effort is being made throughout the world to put the American government in a bad light.

Naturally, official Washington is disturbed. Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, has just returned from a tour of South Viet Nam. He says U.S. troops are bitter over the demonstrations and he, too, is bitter.

President Johnson's opinion, expressed through his news secretary, is that it is always possible for our adversaries to misread events in this country and attach too much significance to demonstrations "which do not reflect the widely known and widespread feeling of the American people, which in every poll shows strong support for helping the people of Viet Nam."

Certainly much pro-Communist activity in the United States could hardly be carried on without a supply of outside funds.

It is suspected that money is being sent for these purposes by relay through Latin-American countries. This is concealed to some extent because members of the Communist party here are usually not identified with such undertakings. These are left to undercover agents or persons ostensibly free from Communist connection.

The fact remains that money from Communist sources is being used inside the United States. The government has strong suspicions that the student demonstrations have been aided, if not instigated, by agents of the Soviet Union and of Red China.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Steps were launched for the designation by markers of historical sites in Hancock County, including the location of the first iron furnace west of the Alleghenies.

A Biblical drama, "The First Commandment," with a cast of 80, was in rehearsal for presentation at the Salineville Christian Church.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Sgt. Olen Gilson and Raymond Rutledge, a civilian construction worker, arrived at their homes here after long confinement as prisoners of war of the Japanese.

"Never again!" members of the police department shouted after being swamped with phone calls following an announcement in The Review that sports fans could get the results of the East Liverpool High School football game by calling the station.

TEN YEARS AGO — Miss Ruth Ann Wudarsky, a senior at New Cumberland High School, was elected vice president of the Northern Panhandle Student Council during its conference at West Liberty State College.

Parents were urged to begin now to give their children the education they will need when they are ready to enter college by the Rev. Kevan Keelan, dean of the College of Steubenville, in a talk at the Rotary Club meeting here.

In other words, the union admits it owes Tough Tony the $75,000 annual wage increase since the nights the sums were voted. Obviously the total now is in the area of $225,000. Why is Mr. Pro piling up the money?

The crusading leaders of the opposition to Tough Tony have a simple explanation. When he goes to prison he will not be able to draw his $21,200 a year formal salary.

But he will be able to demand what is legally his — the back pay voted him by the membership meetings. And he will have enough to see him through the seven-year prison term.

A sort of prison insurance, isn't it?

Farm Bill Called Political Payoff

By Henry J. Taylor

As this rubber-stamp Congress sloshes toward adjournment, splattering more red ink on the public, President Johnson's four-year farm bill puts political venality on a long-term basis—for sure. The average man loses again.

Our wheat surplus has been cut to about 646 million bushels from 802 million a year ago. Corn stocks are down from 742 million bushels to 531 million.

Federal grain storage and handling charges are a speedometer on the change. These alone are down $63 million a year from 1960. In fact, surplus government grain bins in some areas are so unusable that 50 in Iowa are being converted into sheds and shops for Job Corps camps.

But who would know it?

The cotton picture is different. Cotton exports are down about 40 per cent below last year. Government cotton stocks are up to nearly the all-time high of 14½ million bales. This is about a full year's total production.

Domestic and export subsidies and government above-market loans to farmers on this one crop alone will cost nearly $1 billion this year.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON and all the rest claim they are battling against our "balance of payments problem"—which is just a soft definition for our gold crisis.

Yet, even the Department of Agriculture admits that if the cotton crop were liberated into the channels of trade it would reduce our balance of payments deficit approximately $500 million a year.

Farming is hard work, essential work, and this particular writer was brought up on it. The hazards are there, sometimes cruel, and the adage that "a farmer's work is never done" is entirely true.

But when our politicians talk about our government being "of the people, by the people, for the people," they should be talking about 196 million people. Are they?

Today, we have fewer than 15 million people living on farms—less than 8 per cent of our population. Nevertheless, each year President Johnson's four-year farm bill will cost the whole population more than $4 billion.

The people's money delivered to the 8 per cent covers the growing of wheat, feed trains, cotton, rice, wool and dairy products.

In the cases of wheat and wool it gives higher cash payments without any change in today's lower market prices, "to improve growers' income." Cash going directly to farmers will exceed $1.5 billion a year.

Yet, why to farmer? If the same man who is a farmer ran a shoe store he wouldn't get a nickel. Nor would a doctor, a dentist, a seamstress or any other man or woman in business for himself. This is representative government?

Under the former system in the political paradise known as our farm program, the government, in effect, sold surplus crops to taxpayers as a whole and voted the cash to the growers only after the government (that's us) suffered the loss on the surplus crops.

The four-year-bill guards against any possibility of market improvement by putting the direct cash outlay on a long-term basis. The politicians merely shout to the farmers, like a chuckwagon cook to cowpokes on the range, "Come and get it!"

DEMOCRATIC Sen. Spessard L. Holland of Florida, a member of the agriculture committee, courageously summarized the final effect while the "yea" votes raked in the political spoils.

"The bill contributes to the abandonment of any reasonable program for the assistance of America's farmers," he stated.

This monument to political venality was voted 219 to 150 when it reached the House, another monument to the special interests.

The brazen political payoff in the attempted repeal of the right to work laws is another. Both are typical, for I'm certainly not singling out the farmer.

There's nothing new in the way politicians pander to special interests—"You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours." But as this political venality grows each year what happens to representative government?

Representative government (and the cost of it) which is as dedicated to special interests as ours has grown today is not representative government at all.

It is a government that paves the average citizen to carry the load, fed to and lonely, while the politicians go their merry, merry way.

'Demonstrations'

By David Lawrence

Communist Influence Reported

Net effect of "demonstrations" urging an end to war in Viet Nam will be to prolong it.

Communists in Southeast Asia are being given the impression the United States government is weakening and eventually will give up the struggle. Peace parleys now will be deferred, and the fighting will go on.

For several months, the Federal Bureau of Investigation has been gathering information about a Communist plan to start demonstrations in mid-October throughout this country.

At least 18 cities from coast to coast have seen student demonstrations against the war in Viet Nam, carried out in line with plans made by communist leaders in advance.

This doesn't mean all participants of the six or more organizations involved are members of the Communist party or even sympathizers. Communist technique is to send agents out into the colleges and universities to ascertain the names of students with pacifist leanings.

Most pacifists drawn into the situation are unaware of the Communist intrigue behind the protest movements.

NOT ALL activity has been confined to the United States. Pro-Communist newspapers in Uruguay have published advertisements featuring the call for demonstrations.

Newspapers in Panama received circulars urging mass demonstrations before U.S. Embassies on Oct. 15 and 16.

A committee for action on Viet Nam was formed in Toronto to coordinate demonstrations in Canada for mid-October.

The Mexican Communist party told members and groups under its domination to organize United Nations asking for "an end to Yankee intervention in Viet Nam."

Leftist movements in Argentina are reported to have planned demonstrations. In Brussels, demonstrators carried signs reading, "U.S.A., out of Viet Nam."

Other demonstrations were held in Tokyo and London.

Already, the Communist Chinese propaganda organ, Peiping People's Daily, has praised student demonstrations in the United States.

It has declared the protests are "a sign of the rapid growth of the political consciousness of the American people" and the demonstrations have "struck fear into the hearts of those in power in the United States."

A North Vietnamese group has sent a message to one of the committees which sponsored demonstrations in this country, expressing hope that protests will force President Johnson to accept the terms of the Hanoi government for negotiations.

In Moscow, the Soviet newspaper, Izvestia, carried a headline: "Americans Ashamed of America. Washington is Alarmed." No mention was made of Communist connection with the demonstrations.

ALL THIS indicates a concerted effort is being made throughout the world to put the American government in a bad light.

Naturally, official Washington is disturbed. Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, has just returned from a tour of South Viet Nam. He says U.S. troops are bitter over the demonstrations and he, too, is bitter.

President Johnson's opinion, expressed through his news secretary, is that it is always possible for our adversaries to misread events in this country and attach too much significance to demonstrations "which do not reflect the widely known and widespread feeling of the American people, which in every poll shows strong support for helping the people of Viet Nam."

Certainly much pro-Communist activity in the United States could hardly be carried on without a supply of outside funds.

It is suspected that money is being sent for these purposes by relay through Latin-American countries. This is concealed to some extent because members of the Communist party here are usually not identified with such undertakings. These are left to undercover agents or persons ostensibly free from Communist connection.

The fact remains that money from Communist sources is being used inside the United States. The government has strong suspicions that the student demonstrations have been aided, if not instigated, by agents of the Soviet Union and of Red China.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Steps were launched for the designation by markers of historical sites in Hancock County, including the location of the first iron furnace west of the Alleghenies.

A Biblical drama, "The First Commandment," with a cast of 80, was in rehearsal for presentation at the Salineville Christian Church.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Sgt. Olen Gilson and Raymond Rutledge, a civilian construction worker, arrived at their homes here after long confinement as prisoners of war of the Japanese.

"Never again!" members of the police department shouted after being swamped with phone calls following an announcement in The Review that sports fans could get the results of the East Liverpool High School football game by calling the station.

TEN YEARS AGO — Miss Ruth Ann Wudarsky, a senior at New Cumberland High School, was elected vice president of the Northern Panhandle Student Council during its conference at West Liberty State College.

Parents were urged to begin now to give their children the education they will need when they are ready to enter college by the Rev. Kevan Keelan, dean of the College of Steubenville, in a talk at the Rotary Club meeting here.

The Unmarried American Male

Let's Set Record Straight

By ROBERT E. MILLER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The unmarried American male too often is portrayed by his married friends as the playboy —the guy who has everything.

It is time the record was set straight.

What he really is, you married guys, is what you would be if you were not so lucky as to have found the Little Woman. You should know this unless you've forgotten about the Dirty Apartment Society.

The DAS still is going strong, offering housekeeping employment opportunities which have gone virtually untapped in this country's bid to drive out poverty.

Employment agencies say it is hard enough to meet demands of reliable domestic help for normal, established households —let alone the errant bachelor.

Yet some of us are lucky. Another newsman and I who share half of a suburban duplex have a faithful cleaning lady who shows up with clock-like precision every other Tuesday for "Operation Passageway."

She's the boss, and knows it.

One thing we learned quickly is that when she arrives, it is time to abandon ship. Thss is an unspoken ultimatum delivered with one piercing glance through her dark-rimmed glasses.

She has a habit of leaving notes to tell what she needs.

Not just one note in a specified place, but two, and sometimes more, stuck in obvious, eye-level spots around the house.

"Get some rags," demanded one on the bar. A bathroom mirror note called in big block letters for "a new dust mop." Still another on a kitchen table listed various cleaners and detergents. She's specific about brand names, and openly resents any substitute.

Yet there is a maternal instinct about her. You can tell by the way she always leaves the beds turned down, neatly hangs the scattered clothing, and stacks magazines on a bedside table.

We have no doubt that her bimonthly venture into this jungle of overrun ash trays, beer bottles, and dusty corners is something of a sacrifice.

The unmarried male definitely is one of those animals who despises to see anything thrown away. So after a while, anything he owns is owned in abundance.

The bachelor's life isn't all bad, however, and there is that freedom you married guys all cry about. But for the love of pete, the next time you reach for those pipes and slippers, don't kid yourselves about your old fraternity brothers.

Faddy Diets Bring Nothing Permanent

A diet should be made up of foods you enjoy. At first blush this tempting plan might seem to be in the wrong direction. But is it? The best weight control plan is to find a satisfying way of eating that is within your calorie needs. Do this and you'll have it made.

Ida Jean Kain

Fad diets will reduce, if you are just thinking of immediate results. Of course, what is wrong with faddy fare is just what is wrong with appetite depressants. Results are not permanent.

If you could go on a quickie diet and lick your weight to a standstill and have done with the weight problem, then the means would justify the end. But it never works out that way. The very day you resume your old ways of eating, the pounds begin to ease back on, usually faster than they came off.

RECOGNIZE that the amount of food you tend to eat is a habit pattern. You cannot change that pattern by following a rigid diet for a few weeks. Medical authorities believe there is probably more harm in losing and regaining and disturbing the metabolic balance than in staying fat.

So, back to the pattern. It is important for you to reduce gradually so that you effect a permanent change in your food habits. However, if you are considerably overweight, say 40 or 50 pounds, you will lose fast at first, for a portion of your weight is in soft-watery fat that comes off easily. In order to get down to ideal weight, you must follow your new pattern of eating long enough to truly alter your food habits.

The daily diet pattern should be made up of the same type of food that every healthy person eats. Stop looking for a special diet. Decide to adjust your everyday eating pattern so that it meets your nutritional needs within your reducing requirements.

HERE IS the food pattern that furnishes the nutrients in adequate amounts, without too many calories. When you lose by this plan, there will be no reason to revert to your old, fattening ways of eating. This makes sense, doesn't it?

Daily Pattern

2 glasses of skim milk or buttermilk; or, 1 glass and 1 oz. yellow cheese.

Lean meat, fish or fowl, 6 oz., cooked weight; cut off all trimmable fat.

1 egg, or ½ cup cottage cheese.

2 vegetables, plus a salad.

Salad oil — 1 to 2 tbsp.

Margarine or butter, 2 pats.

Choice, 2 slices bread or ½ a baked potato in exchange for 1 slice; or a serving of cereal in place of breakfast toast.

2 fruits, one citrus.

You can plan delightful meals around that list of foods and slim down without going hungry.

erpool. The incursion of out-of-town residents, once a particularly sore point with local residents, has been curtailed severly in recent years, he said.

But any householder confronted with a surly, antagonistic or defiant Halloweener who steps outside the limits of harmless youthful fun should telephone the police department, the mayor said.

Willshaw pointed out the limiting of Halloween rounds to one night has become a custom in recent years in East Liverpool and many other area communities.

Small youngsters making rounds should be accompanied by a parent or some other adult, Willshaw said. Costumed "spooks" should wear some article of white clothing or special reflective material to assure they will be visible in auto headlights, the mayor said.

And motorists should remember to drive with particular care the night of Oct. 30 because youngsters caught up in the excitement of Halloween and their vision obscured by masks may dash unthinkingly into the path of an auto, Willshaw said.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 16-year-old girl who is troubled by something that is bugging lots of high school girls. You spoke at our school several months ago and seemed like a good egg. Your opinion would count at home.

I'm dying to get my ears pierced. Is that so awful My mother is against it. She says it cheapens a girl's appearance. I say it depends on the girl and the earrings.

Some of the girls have let their friends pierce their ears, which horrifies my mother. I would have a doctor do it. The way my mother talks no respectable girl would have her ears pierced. Do you agree with her.

P.S.: Someone who met you in person said your ears are pierced. True or False

BURLINGTON VT. MISS.

Dear Miss: True. And I haven't lost a pair of earrings since I had it done, thank you.

Pierced ears are "in." I would okay it for 16-year olds (no younger) provided the girl wears small button-type pearls or gold or silver balls. Enormous gypsy hoops or chandlier hardware does cheapen a girl's appearance, so that's "out."

P.S.: Ear piercing should be done by a physician and NOT by any friend who happens to own an ice pick or a darning needle.

Absentee Owner

Dear Ann: Fifteen years ago my father died and left me a growing business. I worked for him before I married and enjoyed it. I persuaded my husband, Tom, to take over because I wanted to stay home and raise our four young children.

Tom did well with the business. He expanded and remodeled the building and updated the equipment. He also kept bringing in his relatives — first a brother, then a nephew, then a brother-in-law. Whenever I objected it ended in a big fight, so I kept quiet.

Our youngest child is in high school now and I want to go back in the business. When I told my husband he said, "There is no room for you now. I would only cause trouble."

Last night I made my last stand. Either I go back in the business or I sell it. Well, I was called everything in the book not only by my husband but my sons. Nobody is speaking to me today. I telephoned my pastor and he said, "Leave things as they are." I want your opinion. —THE OUTSIDER

Dear Outsider: Your pastor gave you excellent advice and I hope you take it.

Many things have changed in the last 15 years. If you insist on shooting your way into the business you'll create real trouble. According to your own testimony, your husband has done well, so keep quiet and stay home.

High Compliment

Dear Ann: We have close friends who are of a different faith. They are very fond of our children and the feeling is mutual.

In the last year these friends have been giving our children religious medals and objects which are symbolic of their faith. We've said nothing but we feel this is a slap at our beliefs.

We would never give people of a different faith our religious literature or anything pertaining to it.

The friendship of this couple is important to us, but so are our own convictions. Please give us some level-headed advice. — A TOUCHY SUBJECT.

Dear Touchy: These friends are paying your children a high compliment by giving them objects which have great meaning to them.

The medals need not be worn and the religious objects need not be displayed. Accept the gifts in the proper spirit — and then put them away.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of THE Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Class Holds Cookout, Sets Halloween Event

Controversy Continues On Morrissey

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says there are more senators ready to vote for confirmation of Francis X. Morrissey as a federal judge than there are opposed.

But Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen says he expects all 32 Republicans and more than half a dozen Democrats to join him in voting to send the nomination back to committee.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield once again has put aside the controversial appointment even though the session is growing shorter.

Kennedy, Massachusetts Democrat who is Morrissey's chief sponsor, said Tuesday night a large number of senators have told him a new FBI report on the Boston municipal court judge "cleared up any question they had and they are now fully prepared to support the nomination."

"There are more votes in favor of the nomination than opposed," he said.

Kennedy issued the confident statement after Dirksen renewed his attack on President Johnson's nomination of the old friend of the Kennedy family to be a U.S. District Court judge in Massachusetts.

Kennedy, said Dirksen, is using the nomination "for partisan political purposes."

Following a meeting of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, Dirksen described Morrissey as unqualified by intellectual capacity and legal training and experience for the federal bench.

He said he thinks all 32 Republicans would vote to send the nomination back to the Judiciary Committee for further consideration. "I know of no defectors," he said.

And, Dirksen added, half a dozen or so Democratic senators are prepared to speak against Morrissey's confirmation and even more Democrats can be expected to vote for returning the nomination to committee.

Senate approval of a presidential nomination requires a simple majority — 51 if all 100 senators vote. Similarly, a simple majority of those voting can send a nomination back to committee.

Should the Senate not act before adjournment, Johnson could give Morrissey a recess appointment. To take it, Morrissey would have to give up his $20,000-a-year municipal judgeship — while not being certain of Senate confirmation next year.

Mansfield sidetracked the Morrissey nomination Tuesday to call up the sugar quota bill and said the Senate's next order of business will be a $4.7-billion supplemental appropriation.

The Democratic leader reiterated that he is prepared to vote to confirm Morrissey.

Dirksen said he has no information that the nomination will be withdrawn — or that it will not be brought up before adjournment.

But if it is brought up, he said, he will offer a motion to return it to the Judiciary Committee. There Morrissey was approved 6 to 4 with six committee members not voting.

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered the release of an 81-year-old East Liverpool man who spent the night in jail after he was arrested Tuesday at 5:30 p. m. on an intoxication charge.

The man denied he was intoxicated, but conceded he had consumed a few glasses of beer "on doctor's orders because of a heart condition." Police said he was taken into custody after a cab driver complained he was lying in the Yellow Cab Co. waiting room on the Diamond.

After ascertaining the man's age and learning he had been jailed overnight, the judge said: "Go home, but I hope I don't see you in court again."

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 16-year-old girl who is troubled by something that is bugging lots of high school girls. You spoke at our school several months ago and seemed like a good egg. Your opinion would count at home.

I'm dying to get my ears pierced. Is that so awful My mother is against it. She says it cheapens a girl's appearance. I say it depends on the girl and the earrings.

Some of the girls have let their friends pierce their ears, which horrifies my mother. I would have a doctor do it. The way my mother talks no respectable girl would have her ears pierced. Do you agree with her.

P.S.: Someone who met you in person said your ears are pierced. True or False

BURLINGTON VT. MISS.

Dear Miss: True. And I haven't lost a pair of earrings since I had it done, thank you.

Pierced ears are "in." I would okay it for 16-year olds (no younger) provided the girl wears small button-type pearls or gold or silver balls. Enormous gypsy hoops or chandlier hardware does cheapen a girl's appearance, so that's "out."

P.S.: Ear piercing should be done by a physician and NOT by any friend who happens to own an ice pick or a darning needle.

Absentee Owner

Dear Ann: Fifteen years ago my father died and left me a growing business. I worked for him before I married and enjoyed it. I persuaded my husband, Tom, to take over because I wanted to stay home and raise our four young children.

Tom did well with the business. He expanded and remodeled the building and updated the equipment. He also kept bringing in his relatives — first a brother, then a nephew, then a brother-in-law. Whenever I objected it ended in a big fight, so I kept quiet.

Our youngest child is in high school now and I want to go back in the business. When I told my husband he said, "There is no room for you now. I would only cause trouble."

Last night I made my last stand. Either I go back in the business or I sell it. Well, I was called everything in the book not only by my husband but my sons. Nobody is speaking to me today. I telephoned my pastor and he said, "Leave things as they are." I want your opinion. —THE OUTSIDER.

Dear Outsider: Your pastor gave you excellent advice and I hope you take it.

Many things have changed in the last 15 years. If you insist on shooting your way into the business you'll create real trouble. According to your own testimony, your husband has done well, so keep quiet and stay home.

High Compliment

Dear Ann: We have close friends who are of a different faith. They are very fond of our children and the feeling is mutual.

In the last year these friends have been giving our children religious medals and objects which are symbolic of their faith. We've said nothing but we feel this is a slap at our beliefs.

We would never give people of a different faith our religious literature or anything pertaining to it.

The friendship of this couple is important to us, but so are our own convictions. Please give us some level-headed advice. — A TOUCHY SUBJECT.

Dear Touchy: These friends are paying your children a high compliment by giving them objects which have great meaning to them.

The medals need not be worn and the religious objects need not be displayed. Accept the gifts in the proper spirit — and then put them away.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of THE Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Appeals Court Reserves Ruling On 3 County Cases

LISBON — The Seventh District Court of Appeals, sitting Tuesday at the Courthouse here, reserved opinions in three Columbiana County cases.

Taken under advisement were these cases:

Charles F. Amato vs. the City of Wellsville, et al Common Pleas Court found that Amato is a regular member of the city police force and has been since Sept. 2, 1963, and is entitled to all privileges of a regular patrolman.

State of Ohio vs. Irvin M. Colwell. The defendant, of New Waterford R. D. 1, is appealing a conviction in Eastern Area County Court on leaving the scene of an accident. Judge Herbert Arfman found Colwell guilty and fined him $100, sentenced him to 90 days in jail, and suspended his operator's license for a year. Execution of the sentence has been stayed pending appeal.

Vera E. and Frederick Birkhimer vs. Marjorie Starkey. Mrs. Starkey, of Lisbon R. D. 4, is appealing a 1964 jury verdict allowing the Birkhimers, of Salem R. D. 1, $10,000 in a traffic accident suit.

The case of State of Ohio vs. Frederick C. Minamyer was continued until next term, when the plaintiff - appellee is to file an answer brief. Minamyer, 53, of Salem, was convicted in May 1964 by a Common Pleas Court jury on a sodomy charge.

After studying cases which have been taken under advisement, the court sometimes mails journal entries to the clerk of court's office here.

The court set a hearing in Mahoning County in the case of the State of Ohio vs. Donald G. Goodman, 18, of East Liverpool R. D. 2. Goodman is appealing a drag-racing conviction in Eastern Area Court, where he was fined $25 and had his operator's permit suspended for 90 days. Execution of the sentence was stayed pending the appeal.

One case was deemed to be "not at issue." It is the case of the State of Ohio vs. Sanford A. Davis, 44, of Smiths Ferry. Davis, convicted on May 14, 1964, by a Common Pleas Court jury on a charge of armed robbery of $200 Aug. 30 at a Negley area farmhouse, is serving a 10-25 -year term in the Ohio State Penitentiary. Convicted May 14, 1964, by a common pleas court jury on a charge of armed robbery of $200 Aug. 30 at a Negley area farmhouse. In April, Davis began a 10-to-25-year sentence in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

Briefs of both parties were filed in the case of City of Salem vs. Columbiana County Board of Elections. The Common Pleas Court Jan. 21 upheld a Salem ordinance fixing ward boundary lines which the Board of Elections has declared illegal. The appellants, City Councilmen Harold Astry and Albert Lesch, both Democrats, contend the realignment favors Republicans.

Services for Mr. Greenwood, 45, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 at the Dawson Funeral Home.

Trio Injured As Cars Ram On Route 267

A city youth was hospitalized after an almost head-on collision of cars driven by teen-agers on Lisbon St. Ext. Tuesday night at 7:15, one of four mishaps investigated yesterday by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Michael Orr, 16, son of Evan Orr of 511 College St., was in "fairly good" condition at City Hospital with multiple lacerations of the scalp and forehead received in the crash.

Officers said Orr was a passenger in a car driven by Larry Ashbaugh, 16, of 624 Sophia St. which collided almost head - on with another driven by Jeanne Copenhaver, 17, of 1200 Allen Ave.

The patrol said Ashbaugh, driving south in a 1957 sedan, passed another vehicle about a mile north of the city limits.

The girl, daughter of Ray Copenhaver of Allen Ave., Hoffman Estates, was headed north, drove off the side of the road to avoid a crash, but Ashbaugh's car hit her 1962 coach at the side of the roadway.

She was treated for cuts of the scalp and left elbow and bruises of the left jaw and nose. Ashbaugh was treated for cuts of the forehead and chest. He was charged with improper passing.

Thomas Eugene Arcuragi, 16, of Wyoming Ave., Glenmoor, was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after his 1961 car struck the rear of another auto at the intersection of the Y. & O. Rd. and Route 30 at 5:45 p. m.

The patrol said Violet Shollenberger, 30, of R.D. 1 driving a 1965 coach, had halted on Route 424 at the intersection, and Arcuragi had stopped behind her.

When she moved forward to enter Route 30, Arcuragi also moved, but she had to stop because of traffic, and his car hit the rear of hers.

Harry Lee Wise, 66, of Columbiana was charged with making an improper turn after his car and a station wagon collided on Route 7 about a mile south of Route 14 at 4:10 p. m.

The patrol said he made a left turn in the path of the station wagon driven by Richard Averill, 44, of Youngstown who received a bruised nose.

Wise suffered a cut ear, and Carol Reash, 12, of Columbiana, passenger in his car, received abrasions of the knee.

A semi-trailer truck driven by Chester Nesselroad, 37, of Kensington R.D. 1 drifted backward against another semi - trailer truck on Route 39 about two miles west of Wellsville yesterday morning.

The patrol said Nesselroad halted on the road because of a vehicle in fog ahead and his rig drifted against a following rig driven by Willie Rewis, 64, of Alliance, who had also halted.

County Church Group Meets At Wellsville

Mrs. Mildred Herron of St. Petersburg, Fla., discussed the international convention of Christian churches at Puerto Rico last August when the Columbiana County Men's Brotherhood met in the First Christian Church at Wellsville Monday.

Dinner was served by the Christian Women's Fellowship. Carlton Nicolaus, Wellsville Fellowship president, presided.

Ralph Falconer provided organ music and a solo was sung by Max Zahrndt.

Falconry is considered the oldest of all "field sports." It was practiced in China more than 4,000 years ago.

Religious Instruction Illegal In Class

Nuns Ruled OK To Teach In Ohio Public Schools

CELINA, Ohio (AP) — Using Roman Catholic nuns as teachers, and segregating students by religion is legal in Ohio public schools, a judge ruled in a suit viewed as a test case.

But, said Common Pleas Judge Fred Cramer, it is unconstitutional for school districts to allow religious instruction during school hours.

Cramer's decision is expected to be appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court. Both sides in the two-year-old court struggle had viewed the suit filed by Jesse Moore of nearby Fort Recovery as a test case to set up the first supreme court ruling on employment of nuns as public school teachers.

Moore sued the Southwest Local School District of Fort Recovery, a predominantly Catholic area, contending the school board was dominated by the church and had sanctioned spending of public funds to operate parochial schools.

Three of the district's schools have only Catholic students. The fourth has nearly all protestant pupils.

Judge Cramer, a Jew assigned from Southern Ohio to hear the case after the local judge disqualified himself, said, "The relationship between the church and the board might even be described as a holy alliance. . ."

But, he said, hiring nuns wearing religious garb as teachers "does not convert the school at which they teach into a sectarian school or create sectarian control" outlawed by both state and federal constitutions.

And, he ruled, there is no law against segregation by religion and no demonstration that this is harmful to students.

When Moore filed his suit, the schools had regular religious programs in the three schools with Catholic students. The district later changed this to a program which released pupils one hour during the school day for religious training outside the school buildings.

The judge ordered the board to stop this practice.

Appeals Court Reserves Ruling On 3 County Cases

LISBON — The Seventh District Court of Appeals, sitting Tuesday at the Courthouse here, reserved opinions in three Columbiana County cases.

Taken under advisement were these cases:

Charles F. Amato vs. the City of Wellsville, et al Common Pleas Court found that Amato is a regular member of the city police force and has been since Sept. 2, 1963, and is entitled to all privileges of a regular patrolman.

State of Ohio vs. Irvin M. Colwell. The defendant, of New Waterford R. D. 1, is appealing a conviction in Eastern Area County Court on leaving the scene of an accident. Judge Herbert Arfman found Colwell guilty and fined him $100, sentenced him to 90 days in jail, and suspended his operator's license for a year. Execution of the sentence has been staved pending appeal.

Vera E. and Frederick Birkhimer vs. Marjorie Starkey. Mrs. Starkey, of Lisbon R. D. 4, is appealing a 1964 jury verdict allowing the Birkhimers, of Salem R. D. 1, $10,000 in a traffic accident suit.

The case of State of Ohio vs. Frederick C. Minamyer was continued until next term, when the plaintiff - appellee is to file an answer brief. Minamyer, 53, of Salem, was convicted in May 1964 by a Common Pleas Court jury on a sodomy charge.

After studying cases which have been taken under advisement, the court sometimes mails journal entries to the clerk of court's office here.

The court set a hearing in Mahoning County in the case of the State of Ohio vs. Donald G. Goodman, 18, of East Liverpool R. D. 2. Goodman is appealing a drag-racing conviction in Eastern Area Court, where he was fined $25 and had his operator's permit suspended for 90 days. Execution of the sentence was stayed pending the appeal.

One case was deemed to be "not at issue." It is the case of the State of Ohio vs. Sanford A. Davis, 44, of Smiths Ferry. Davis, convicted on May 14, 1964, by a Common Pleas Court jury on a charge of armed robbery of $200 Aug. 30 at a Negley area farmhouse, is serving a 10-25 -year term in the Ohio State Penitentiary. Convicted May 14, 1964, by a common pleas court jury on a charge of armed robbery of $200 Aug. 30 at a Negley area farmhouse. In April, Davis began a 10-to-25-year sentence in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

Briefs of both parties were filed in the case of City of Salem vs. Columbiana County Board of Elections. The Common Pleas Court Jan. 21 upheld a Salem ordinance fixing ward boundary lines which the Board of Elections has declared illegal. The appellants, City Councilmen Harold Astry and Albert Lesch, both Democrats, contend the realignment favors Republicans.

Trio Injured As Cars Ram On Route 267

A city youth was hospitalized after an almost head-on collision of cars driven by teen-agers on Lisbon St. Ext. Tuesday night at 7:15, one of four mishaps investigated yesterday by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Michael Orr, 16, son of Evan Orr of 511 College St., was in "fairly good" condition at City Hospital with multiple lacerations of the scalp and forehead received in the crash.

Stark Deputies Report Smashing Gambling Setup

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Stark County sheriff's deputies report they have broken up a $1,000-a-week gambling operation in a northwest Canton home.

The home owner, Michael Gennett, 55, was not there when the place was raided. His wife and Eugene Traxler, 47, were arrested and charged with possession of gambling devices.

The raid by Sheriff Wilton J. Hine, his deputies and Stark County Prosecutor Norman J. Putman came within hours of learning a federal gambling stamp had been issued to a person at Gennett's address.

They said they confiscated hundreds of football parlay sheets, 17 dozen tip boards and miscellaneous gambling items.

Putman said he may take the case to the grand jury.

A list of names found at the Gennett residence is being investigated to determine if the people listed are customers or part of the gambling operation.

Bears Play Host To Beaver Eleven

The appearance of eighth ranked Steubenville Big Red at Patterson plus the Beaver Local-Oak Glen battle and Wellsville-Salem clash feature a schedule of nine games carded on a busy Friday night in the district.

East Liverpool will have its hands full when the powerful Big Red eleven invades Friday night.

Steubenville is the team which led Massillon, Ohio's No. 1 team, until the final five minutes last week before bowing, 20-14. Ranked fourth in the state last week, the loss put Big Red to eighth.

The Potters are laying for an upset but must stop the powerful bursts of halfbacks Mike Palmer and Bob Smith rated two of the top backs in Buckeyeland.

—:—

WHILE Big Red just missed upsetting Massillon last week, Coach Bob McNea's Potters flashed their best offensive form of the season in romping to a 40-6 victory over Martins Ferry.

Steubenville shows a 5-1 record while East Liverpool will take a 3-2-1 mark into the game.

OAK GLEN will put its five game winning streak, a 6-1 record and state rating on the line in a battle with rival Beaver Local at Newell. The Beavers are currently sitting on a 3-3 record.

Coach Bob Starkey's Golden Bears only have been beaten by Wellsville in the second game of the season but since have rolled to five straight victories.

CHRIS Thornton and his Wellsville mates will be looking for a rare victory over Salem. The Quakers have dominated the series recently but the Tigers will be in their own confines of Nicholson Stadium.

Thornton regained his scoring leadership last week with three touchdowns in a victory over Mingo Junction. His total now stands at 12 touchdowns or 72 points to put him back in front of United's Fritz Ziegler.

In other games Friday, Midland is favored to get back on the victory trail when Braddock invades. The Leopards have been winning the battle of statistics but losing on the scoreboard.

MIDLAND had a good advantage in all departments last week but dropped a 7-6 decision to Rochester.

Southern Local goes up against undefeated Jefferson Union in a Buckeye Border Conference game. Coach Norm Allison's Yellowjackets have rolled to six straight victories.

STANTON Local, after taking last week off from the football wars, faces rival Springfield Local on the Stanton gridiron.

Griese Threat To Spartans

Michigan State, Irish Given Nod

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Why can't these scientists invent something to cure a head cold and a split-screen television set so recuperating football fans can watch both Southern California at Notre Dame and Michigan State at Purdue simultaneously?

Last week's clear-eyed predictions lowered the season's average to .730.

Here are this week's picks:

Southern Cal at Notre Dame: A year ago, the Trojans wrecked Notre Dame's perfect season in the final quarter of the final game. This year it will be different. Southern California has Mike Garrett, but the Irish have Bill Wolski, Nick Eddy and Nick Rassas.

Michigan State over Purdue: Michigan State's defensive line held Michigan and Ohio State to a total of minus 70 yards in the Spartans' two outings. It is doubtful if Bob Griese, Purdue's competent QB, can find the key to open the door.

Nebraska over Colorado: The Cornhuskers will find a way to contain Wilmer Cooks.

Arkansas over North Texas State: Hardly a workout for the team that beat Texas a week ago.

Texas over Rice: The Longhorns are weary but fresh enough to beat Rice.

Louisiana State over South Carolina: The Tigers' Joe Labruzzo became of age against Kentucky a week ago.

Kentucky over Georgia: Bob Taylor, Georgia's best back, is out for the season with a broken leg.

Dartmouth over Harvard: Mickey Beard and Gene Ryzewicz give Dartmouth a potent one-two punch.

Alabama over Florida State: Steve Sloan to scalp the Seminoles.

Minnesota over Michigan: The Gophers, from whom little was expected, grow better week by week.

UCLA over California: But it will be close.

MIDWEST: Ohio State over Wisconsin, Kent State over Bowling Green, Miami (Ohio) over Ohio U., Illinois over Duke, Washington State over Indiana, Missouri over Iowa State, Oklahoma over Kansas State, Oklahoma State over Kansas, Louisville over Marshall, Iowa over Northwestern, Western Michigan over Toledo, Tulsa over Cincinnati, Wichita over Southern Illinois.

DICK SISLER, Former Cincinnati manager, gives his son Ricky some batting tips at his home in Nashville after it was announced Tuesday that he had been hired as a coach by the St. Louis Cardinals. Sisler will replace Mickey Vernon in the first base coaching box for the Cards. (UPI Telephoto)

Five In Running As Baseball Head

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Several new names have come up in baseball's search for a new commissioner, The Associated Press learned today.

The major league club owners, eager to elect a successor to retiring Ford Frick before the annual baseball convention next month, have narrowed the field of candidates to five men.

Three of the names have never been mentioned publicly before. All are outside baseball.

These men, who most regarded as among the leading candidates, are Eugene M. Zuckert, Secretary of the Air Force; Curtis E. LeMay, former Air Force chief of staff and head of the Strategic Air Command, and G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange.

Another new name, said to be a real dark horse should baseball decide to pick one of its own is Louis Carroll, the attorney for the National League.

The fifth is an old face, American League President Joe Cronin, who according to one source, "has been getting an awful lot of 11th-hour support."

Under this plan, the commissioner would surround himself with administrative assistants in charge of radio, television, press, player relations and the pension plan.

None of the 20 owners, including the two-man screening committee, John E. Fetzer, president of the Detroit Tigers, and John Galbraith president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was in position to say whether the new commissioner would come from within or outside baseball.

The general feeling was that the next commissioner would not be named at this meeting, despite the drastic reduction in the list of candidates. The field, narrowed to 18 at the last meeting in July, has been trimmed to 10 and then five within 24 hours.

Walter O'Malley, president of the Los Angeles Dodgers, was among those who believed that at least one more meeting at some future date would be necessary before a commissioner would be elected. A total of 14 votes, seven from each league, are necessary for election.

"I didn't expect them to name a commissioner when I got here," O'Malley said, "and I still don't expect one now. However, a lot has been accomplished. More than I expected."

Before getting down to the business of selecting a commissioner, baseball Tuesday signed a new radio-TV contract with the National Broadcasting Co. for a whopping $30.6 million. That includes TV rights for the World Series and All-Star Games as well as Game of the Week.

Baseball received $5.4 million last year for the Game of the Week from ABC, which elected not to renew its option for 1966.

Loy Finishes First In Win Over Warren

The East Liverpool High cross country team ran up a 19-40 victory over Warren Tuesday at the Country Club.

Bill Loy paced Coach Frank Chan's Potters finishing first in 10:46 over the 2⅛ mile course.

Following Loy were Mike Kelly, second, Rick Forzano, fourth, Greg Manning, fifth and Jerry Wood, seventh.

Jerry Gilford finished third to lead Warren.

East Liverpool will run at Braceville Saturday.

Paul Bryant started his football coaching career as an assistant at Alabama in 1936 and landed his first head coaching job at Maryland in 1945.

Colts' Braase Cited By NFL

NEW YORK (AP)—In a wild weekend of free-scoring ball games, the defense was overshadowed Sunday in the NFL but Ordell Braase of the Baltimore Colts was outstanding against the Washington Redskins. The veteran defensive end was named The Associated Press Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Braase, a 6-foot-4, 242-pounder, crashed through on Sonny Jurgensen and tipped his attempted screen pass into the hands of Billy Ray Smith on the Redskins 32, leading to a touchdown.

"Braase has played well all year," said Coach Don Shula. "He has been especially outstanding the last two weeks."

The nine-year veteran from South Dakota is one of the Colts' front four which has helped dump opposing quarterbacks 19 times for 179 yards in the first five games.

Giardello Ready To Battle Tiger

NEW YORK (AP) — The Tiger is hungry and on the prowl.

This doesn't scare middleweight champion Joey Giardello one bit. He's prepared to tie knots in the Tiger's tail on Thursday night.

"This could be the last chance for me, so I must win," says Nigerian Dick Tiger. "I will win."

"That's nice," said Giardello, "but I hate to disappoint him. I'm gonna win. The thing that scares me is that I'm too confident. I can't see how I can lose."

The hard training was out of the way for both 160-pounders and now they had the long wait until they climb into the Madison Square Garden ring at 10 p.m., EDT, Thursday night for their 15-round return title fight.

Giardello, conqueror of the defending champion in their title fight at Atlantic City, N.J., Dec. 7, 1963, has won nine straight in nearly three years. At 35, he feels he still has a couple of more years to collect the big money that eluded him through most of his 18-year pro career.

"Those 8-5 odds favoring him are crazy," said Giardello today. "I was a 3-1 underdog when I took the title fight from him and I can't see why I shouldn't beat him again. His style is made to order for me."

Tiger, 36, figures he doesn't have to change much of his style. All he wants, he said Tuesday, is for the referee to make Giardello work in the ring.

"I'm going to make him fight," said the grimly determined Nigerian. "He ran and ran the first time. This time I expect to corner him enough so he'll have to fight."

Trojan's Garrett Leads In Yardage

NEW YORK (AP) — If Iron Mike Garrett keeps stepping up his ground-gaining pace, the Southern California workhorse may wind up outrushing all but a handful of the nation's college football teams.

The Trojans' amazing halfback is making a runaway of the individual rushing race with 852 yards from scrimmage in five games, according to NCAA figures released today. Garrett has outgained 82 of the country's 114 major teams — and he's improving each week.

Toting the ball 31 times in each of the fourth-ranked Trojans' last three starts, the 5-foot-9, 185-pound senior has rolled up 172, 175 and 205 yards. Those totals have increased his rushing lead over another Garrett — West Virginia's Garrett Ford — to 280 yards.

Billy Stevens, the Texas Western quarterback who has been the total offense leader from the first week of the season, is in danger of losing his grip this Saturday. Texas Western doesn't play and Tulsa ace Bill Anderson is only 66 yards behind Stevens in combined passing-rushing yardage, 1,479-1,413.

Anderson continues to pace the passing department with 131 completions in 228 attempts. Stevens is second and Purdue's Bob Griese, hitting on 66 per cent of his tosses, is third.

Unbeaten Lakers Face Test Against Celtics

By The Associated Press

The unbeaten Los Angeles Lakers get their first acid test in the National Basketball Association tonight. They invade Boston to battle the champion Boston Celtics.

The Lakers, expected by many to end the Celtics' championship reign, have impressed in victories over San Francisco and St. Louis while the Celtics edged Cincinnati 102-98 in their one game to date.

Sugar Ray Will Perform Tonight At Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE — Veteran Sugar Ray Robinson will meet Rudolph Bent the Middleweight king of Jamaica in the main event tonight at the Community Arena.

On the same card tonight, Cowboy Billy Smith, North American Flyweight champion, will defend his title against veteran Carmen Iacabucci of Cincinnati in a 12 rounder.

Another title fight, for the Ohio lightweight title, will send Doug Agin of Zanesville against Norman Springs of Cincinnati. Springs is a former National Golden Glove champ.

A four rounder between John Bauer and Herman Dunbar will open the card at 8:30. Doors to the Arena will open at 7 p.m.

Sayers, Cox Are Tied For Scoring In NFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Gale Sayers, the flashy rookie halfback of the Chicago Bears, has zoomed into a tie for the scoring lead in the National Football League with Fred Cox of the Minnesota Vikings.

The four touchdowns Sayers scored against the Minnesota Vikings gave him eight for the season and 48 points, the exact number piled up by Cox on 18 straight extra points and 10 field goals out of 14 attempts.

Bart Starr, Green Bay's sharpshooter, led the Packers to victory with a great second-half display against Detroit and took over the lead in the passing department. The lead is based on a combination of Starr's percentage of completions (64.7), TD passes (8), percentage of interceptions (2.0) and average yards gained (9.31).

Jim Brown of Cleveland continued to lead the rushers with 561 yards and an average of 4.8 yards. He has a 243-yard lead on runner-up Tommy Mason of Minnesota.

Eighty per cent of the American people never have traveled in an airplane, according to a travel firm survey.

New Hockey Division Set

MONTREAL (AP) — Baltimore and Minneapolis-St. Paul appear the favorites to complete the National Hockey League's second division which now has four of its six new cities.

San Francisco-Oakland and Vancouver are the newest NHL cities. Both were approved by the league's board of governors Tuesday and join Los Angeles and St. Louis which had been approved last summer for the second division.

NHL President Clarence Campbell said two groups were bidding for the San Francisco-Oakland and Vancouver franchises. Campbell explained that the board of governors had only approved the new cities but that the actual franchises had not yet been awarded.

Still competing for the remaining two berths in the six-team division expected to start playing by 1967 are Philadelphia and Pittsburgh as well as Baltimore and the Twin Cities.

The major league club owners, eager to elect a successor to retiring Ford Frick before the annual baseball convention next month, have narrowed the field of candidates to five men.

Three of the names have never been mentioned publicly before. All are outside baseball.

These men, who most regarded as among the leading candidates, are Eugene M. Zuckert, Secretary of the Air Force; Curtis E. LeMay, former Air Force chief of staff and head of the Strategic Air Command, and G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange.

Another new name, said to be a real dark horse should baseball decide to pick one of its own is Louis Carroll, the attorney for the National League.

The fifth is an old face, American League President Joe Cronin, who according to one source, "has been getting an awful lot of 11th-hour support."

Under this plan, the commissioner would surround himself with administrative assistants in charge of radio, television, press, player relations and the pension plan.

None of the 20 owners, including the two-man screening committee, John E. Fetzer, president of the Detroit Tigers, and John Galbraith president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was in position to say whether the new commissioner would come from within or outside baseball.

The general feeling was that the next commissioner would not be named at this meeting, despite the drastic reduction in the list of candidates. The field, narrowed to 18 at the last meeting in July, has been trimmed to 10 and then five within 24 hours.

Walter O'Malley, president of the Los Angeles Dodgers, was among those who believed that at least one more meeting at some future date would be necessary before a commissioner would be elected. A total of 14 votes, seven from each league, are necessary for election.

"I didn't expect them to name a commissioner when I got here," O'Malley said, "and I still don't expect one now. However, a lot has been accomplished. More than I expected."

Before getting down to the business of selecting a commissioner, baseball Tuesday signed a new radio-TV contract with the National Broadcasting Co. for a whopping $30.6 million. That includes TV rights for the World Series and All-Star Games as well as Game of the Week.

Baseball received $5.4 million last year for the Game of the Week from ABC, which elected not to renew its option for 1966.

Loy Finishes First In Win Over Warren

The East Liverpool High cross country team ran up a 19-40 victory over Warren Tuesday at the Country Club.

Bill Loy paced Coach Frank Chan's Potters finishing first in 10:46 over the 2½ mile course.

Following Loy were Mike Kelly, second, Rick Forzano, fourth, Greg Manning, fifth and Jerry Wood, seventh.

Jerry Gilford finished third to lead Warren.

East Liverpool will run at Braceville Saturday.

Paul Bryant started his football coaching career as an assistant at Alabama in 1936 and landed his first head coaching job at Maryland in 1945.

Giardello Ready To Battle Tiger

NEW YORK (AP) — The Tiger is hungry and on the prowl.

This doesn't scare middleweight champion Joey Giardello one bit. He's prepared to tie knots in the Tiger's tail on Thursday night.

"This could be the last chance for me, so I must win," says Nigerian Dick Tiger. "I will win."

"That's nice," said Giardello, "but I hate to disappoint him. I'm gonna win. The thing that scares me is that I'm too confident. I can't see how I can lose."

The hard training was out of the way for both 160-pounders and now they had the long wait until they climb into the Madison Square Garden ring at 10 p.m., EDT, Thursday night for their 15-round return title fight.

Giardello, conqueror of the defending champion in their title fight at Atlantic City, N.J., Dec. 7, 1963, has won nine straight in nearly three years. At 35, he feels he still has a couple of more years to collect the big money that eluded him through most of his 18-year pro career.

"Those 8-5 odds favoring him are crazy," said Giardello today. "I was a 3-1 underdog when I took the title fight from him and I can't see why I shouldn't beat him again. His style is made to order for me."

Tiger, 36, figures he doesn't have to change much of his style. All he wants, he said Tuesday, is for the referee to make Giardello work in the ring.

"I'm going to make him fight," said the grimly determined Nigerian. "He ran and ran the first time. This time I expect to corner him enough so he'll have to fight."

Trojan's Garrett Leads In Yardage

NEW YORK (AP) — If Iron Mike Garrett keeps stepping up his ground-gaining pace, the Southern California workhorse may wind up outrushing all but a handful of the nation's college football teams.

The Trojans' amazing halfback is making a runaway of the individual rushing race with 852 yards from scrimmage in five games, according to NCAA figures released today. Garrett has outgained 82 of the country's 114 major teams — and he's improving each week.

Toting the ball 31 times in each of the fourth-ranked Trojans' last three starts, the 5-foot-9, 185-pound senior has rolled up 172, 175 and 205 yards. Those totals have increased his rushing lead over another Garrett — West Virginia's Garrett Ford — to 280 yards.

Billy Stevens, the Texas Western quarterback who has been the total offense leader from the first week of the season, is in danger of losing his grip this Saturday. Texas Western doesn't play and Tulsa ace Bill Anderson is only 66 yards behind Stevens in combined passing-rushing yardage, 1,479-1,413.

Anderson continues to pace the passing department with 131 completions in 228 attempts. Stevens is second and Purdue's Bob Griese, hitting on 66 per cent of his tosses, is third.

Unbeaten Lakers Face Test Against Celtics

By The Associated Press

The unbeaten Los Angeles Lakers get their first acid test in the National Basketball Association tonight. They invade Boston to battle the champion Boston Celtics.

The Lakers, expected by many to end the Celtics' championship reign, have impressed in victories over San Francisco and St. Louis while the Celtics edged Cincinnati 102-98 in their one game to date.

Colts' Braase Cited By NFL

NEW YORK (AP)—In a wild weekend of free-scoring ball games, the defense was overshadowed Sunday in the NFL but Ordell Braase of the Baltimore Colts was outstanding against the Washington Redskins. The veteran defensive end was named The Associated Press Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Braase, a 6-foot-4, 242-pounder, crashed through on Sonny Jurgensen and tipped his attempted screen pass into the hands of Billy Ray Smith on the Redskins 32, leading to a touchdown.

"Braase has played well all year," said Coach Don Shula. "He has been especially outstanding the last two weeks."

The nine-year veteran from South Dakota is one of the Colts' front four which has helped dump opposing quarterbacks 19 times for 179 yards in the first five games.

Sugar Ray Will Perform Tonight At Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE — Veteran Sugar Ray Robinson will meet Rudolph Bent the Middleweight king of Jamaica in the main event tonight at the Community Arena.

On the same card tonight, Cowboy Billy Smith, North American Flyweight champion, will defend his title against veteran Carmen Iacabucci of Cincinnati in a 12 rounder.

Another title fight, for the Ohio lightweight title, will send Doug Agin of Zanesville against Norman Springs of Cincinnati. Springs is a former National Golden Glove champ.

A four rounder between John Bauer and Herman Dunbar will open the card at 8:30. Doors to the Arena will open at 7 p.m.

New Hockey Division Set

MONTREAL (AP) — Baltimore and Minneapolis-St. Paul appear the favorites to complete the National Hockey League's second division which now has four of its six new cities.

San Francisco-Oakland and Vancouver are the newest NHL cities. Both were approved by the league's board of governors Tuesday and join Los Angeles and St. Louis which had been approved last summer for the second division.

NHL President Clarence Campbell said two groups were bidding for the San Francisco-Oakland and Vancouver franchises. Campbell explained that the board of governors had only approved the new cities but that the actual franchises had not yet been awarded.

Still competing for the remaining two berths in the six-team division expected to start playing by 1967 are Philadelphia and Pittsburgh as well as Baltimore and the Twin Cities.

Sayers, Cox Are Tied For Scoring In NFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Gale Sayers, the flashy rookie halfback of the Chicago Bears, has zoomed into a tie for the scoring lead in the National Football League with Fred Cox of the Minnesota Vikings.

The four touchdowns Sayers scored against the Minnesota Vikings gave him eight for the season and 48 points, the exact number piled up by Cox on 18 straight extra points and 10 field goals out of 14 attempts.

Bart Starr, Green Bay's sharpshooter, led the Packers to victory with a great second-half display against Detroit and took over the lead in the passing department. The lead is based on a combination of Starr's percentage of completions (64.7), TD passes (8), percentage of interceptions (2.0) and average yards gained (9.31).

Jim Brown of Cleveland continued to lead the rushers with 561 yards and an average of 4.8 yards. He has a 243-yard lead on runner-up Tommy Mason of Minnesota.

Eighty per cent of the American people never have traveled in an airplane, according to a travel firm survey.

Earl Morrall Leads In One Passing Dept.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Earl Morrall, 10-year veteran in the National Football League, said "I have a lot of things to prove to a lot of people" when he was traded from Detroit to New York at the start of this season.

It seems he has succeeded, and will try to continue Sunday when the Cleveland Browns visit Yankee Stadium.

Morrall had a great day last Sunday in a 35-27 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles. He specialized in the deep pass, throwing touchdowns of 89, 71 and 46 yards and a two-yard flip, for a total of 296 yards.

Morrall, fifth ranked among NFL passers with a 55.9 percentage (52 for 93), leads in one important statistic: His average gain per pass is 9.84 yards.

The 6-foot-2, 206-pound Morrall was the starting flinger for the Detroit Lions in 1963 and passed for 2,621 yards and 24 touchdowns.

Erich Barnes, Browns defensive back, will try to stop Morrall's long bombs on familiar turf. Barnes, a former Giant who was traded to the Browns this season, will return to Yankee Stadium for the first time Sunday since the trade.

The Browns beat Dallas 23-17 last Sunday.

Johnson Says He Can Beat Cassius Clay

LONDON (AP) — American heavyweight boxer Amos Johnson said today: "I beat Cassius Clay before and I can take him again."

Johnson, from Medina, Ohio, was celebrating his 10-round decision over British heavyweight champion Henry Cooper at London's Wembley Stadium Tuesday night.

Johnson, 26, defeated Clay, the heavyweight champ, as an amateur in 1959.

"That's a long time ago, but I think my win over Cooper puts me in the big time," Johnson said. "I'm going to Las Vegas for the Floyd Patterson - Clay title fight, and I'll challenge the winner."

Johnson, who weighed 196, proved too tough for Cooper, who never got his best punch — a vicious left hook — going except in the first round.

It was this punch that dropped Clay in his fight with Cooper in London in June 1963. Clay got up and went on to stop Cooper in the fifth round of that 10-round encounter.

Ohio, Miami Stars Cited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Miami's versatile Bruce Matte ran and passed his way to Back of the Week honors and Ohio University's rugged Billy Biggs Jr. tackled his way into the lineman of the week spotlight in the Mid-American Conference.

Matte, whose brother Tom starred at Ohio State, had a hand in 26 of Miami's 28 points as the Redskins bounced Marshall from the ranks of the unbeaten, 28-7, last Saturday.

Biggs, a defensive end and tackle, turned in 14 tackles and assisted on six more as Ohio just missed winning its first game of the year over unbeaten Xavier. Xavier finally ended up on top, 21-19.

Against Xavier, the 6-foot, 200-pound Biggs burst through the Xavier line repeatedly to harass the Musketeers' ace passer, Carroll Williams, spilling him for at least 40 yards in losses.

Miami's football brochure says that Matte "needs work on passing, particularly in developing consistency in his delivery."

His performance against Marshall showed he may have developed that consistency. The Cleveland junion completed 10 of 16 aerials for 113 yards and two touchdowns. He also flipped a two-point conversion pass and scored twice himself on short runs.

Other backs considered were Al Bogan of Ohio U., Jack Anderson of Western Michigan, Willie Asburg of Kent, Jim Berkey of Toledo, Mike Weger of Bowling Green and Andy Socha of Marshall.

Nominees in the line included Ron Domin of Kent, Heath Wingate of Bowling Green, Fred Zimmerman of Toledo, Ken Simpson of Marshall, Nelson Jackson of Western and Frank Dwyer of Miami.

Paul Seymour, returning as coach of the Baltimore Bullets basketball team, once tried his hand as an outfielder with Elmira, N. Y. At the time the franchise was owned by the St. Louis Browns.

Bowling Green Clashes With Kent In Big Game

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Memorial Stadium in Kent should be filled to capacity Saturday when the Golden Flashes battle Bowling Green in the Mid-American Conference game of the week.

Kent State coach Leo Stang and Falcon mentor Bob Gibson agree on one thing—the contest is a crucial one for both schools.

Bowling Green (2-0) needed a late score to get by Toledo 21-14 last weekend and Kent also tallied late to come out with a 10-10 tie against Western Michigan.

Kent (2-0-1) certainly has enough incentive. For one thing, Homecoming Day is likely to draw 20,000 partisan rooters. For another, there's that 41-0 licking the Falcons imposed last year, Kent's worst of the season.

Gibson said Kent "probably is the best team we've faced all year. They have good size and are well balanced. Frankly, they may be too strong for us."

But the Falcon boss is quick to add that his offensive unit may be coming around. He particularly was pleased with his club's first touchdown drive against the Rockets, an 81-yard march in 15 plays.

Miami is at home to Ohio University and Marshall, beaten by Miami after four straight, is out side the loop against Louisville. Western (0-2-1) plays at Toledo (1-2) in the other league game.

NFL's Offensive Award Goes To Bears' Sayers

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Phenomenal rookie halfback Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears conceded today, "I think it may get difficult for me from now on" in National Football League play.

Sayers accepted modestly his distinction as The Associated Press Offensive Player of the Week after scoring four touchdowns over three different routes as the Bears whipped the Minnesota Vikings 45-37 Sunday.

"I'm very happy to get the honor," said the swift sensation from the University of Kansas. "But that victory over Minnesota was a team effort. Our defense functioned well and our offense moved the ball pretty good."

No Bear moved the ball better than Sayers, who:

Carried 13 times for 64 yards and one touchdown.

Caught four passes for 63 yards and two touchdowns.

Returned four kickoffs for 170 yards and one touchdown on a game-breaking 96-yard run.

And threw a left-handed 27-yard pass which set up a Bear field goal.

"I carried the ball quite a bit in the first half," said Sayers, who probably was the least excited man on Minnesota's field after his Sunday heroics.

"I got pretty tired in the second half, but Jon Arnett relieved me for five minutes and then I felt pretty good."

"I hope I can continue to help the Bears, but I think things may get a little more difficult for me. You finish one tough game in this league and next one gets tougher."

The Bears meet the Detroit Lions here Sunday.

Arkansas' Crockett Wins Lineman Of Week Award

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a good thing Bobby Crockett doesn't wear a coonskin cap like Davey did. The Arkansas end would have had plenty of trouble keeping it on with all the tumbling he did in the Razorbacks' 27-24 victory over Texas last Saturday.

Crockett's sparkling catches in Arkansas' late drive for the winning touchdown against the Longhorns made him The Associated Press Lineman of the Week.

The 6-foot-1, 195-pound senior caught five passes in Arkansas' 80-yard march downfield — the last one a 14-yarder that left the ball on the Texas one. Arkansas scored the winning touchdown on the next play.

Over-all, Crockett caught eight passes for 102 yards and one touchdown.

It wasn't his catches so much as his acrobatics that left Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles and Texas Coach Darrell Royal impressed.

"Crockett made some of the most fantastic catches I have ever seen," said Broyles. Royal nodded agreement, saying, "Lord, they were fantastic."

Crockett's grabs ate up most of the yardage Arkansas needed in that final drive that was climaxed by quarterback Jon Brittenum's one-yard plunge.

He gained 68 of the 80 yards with catches good for 22, 13, 8, 11 and 14 yards.

Numann's Goal Gives Warriors Win Over Royals

CINCINNATI (AP)—Paul Numann sank a 20-foot field goal with 10 seconds left in the game Tuesday to boost the San Francisco Warriors to a 100-99 National Basketball Association victory over the Cincinnati Royals.

Led by Jack Twyman and Jerry Lucas, the Royals tied the score late in the game at 84-84, and Lucas' three-point play put Cincinnati ahead. A few minutes later Twyman connected with a free throw to give the Royals a 92-87 lead with 3:22 left.

But the whole San Francisco team started hitting and Nate Thurmond tied it at 98-98 with a field goal 32 seconds before the game ended. Oscar Robertson's free throw—and his 32nd point of the game—gave Cincinnati a one-point lead but Neumann then sank his field goal after a time out.

Fight Results

LONDON — Amos Johnson, 196, Medina, Ohio, outpointed Henry Cooper, 190, England, 10; Johnny Prescott, 198¼, England, stopped Chip Johnson, 183, Naples, Fla., 5; Eduardo Corletti, 188¼, Argentina, stopped Billy Walker, 191¼, England, 8.

NEW YORK — Mike Cortez, 134½, New York, outpointed Luke Ervine, 136, Bayonne, N.J., 8.

HOUSTON, Tex.—Steve Freeman, Houston, outpointed Juan Perales, Monterrey, Mex., 10, lightweights.

Memphis Star Honored As Back Of Week

By DON MCLEOD

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Billy Fletcher's chunky build makes his look shorter than he is and more like a touch football than The Associated Press Back of the Week.

The soft-spoken youngster has talent which belies his modest demenor, although some of it admittedly was perfected playing touch football with his good friend Elvis Presley.

Fletcher, long since promoted from the touch circuit, almost single-handedly wrecked Mississippi State's football image last weekend with a record-breaking performance which won him the Back of the Week honors.

The baby-faced quarterback, who sprinkles his conversation with "sirs," passed for touchdowns of 26, 22 and 21 yards, ran five yards for one, kicked field goals of 44 and 28 yards and booted three extra points.

He had a hand or foot in every point that all but destroyed the previously unbeaten 10th-ranked Bulldogs 33-13 and reversed the luck of the previously winless Tigers.

Split end Bob Sherlag, who caught 10 Fletcher passes, including the touchdown throws, attests "Billy put those passes right where you want them."

Paul Davis, the Mississippi State coach, added his vote for Fletcher, calling the Memphis lad the greatest: "We just couldn't contain him."

Fletcher's response to the feat was a blushing: "This is the greatest night of my life."

And it must have been — the 5-foot-9, 180-pound star passed for a total 257 yards and ran for 94, setting school records for passing and total offense in a single game. He completed 18 of 30 passes.

Fletcher majors in construction technology and hopes for a career in construction or sales.

Howe To Lead Stars Against Cup Champs

MONTREAL (AP) — Gordie Howe, starting his 20th season in the National Hockey League, leads a team of NHL All-Stars against the Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens in the league's 19th annual All Star game tonight.

Howe, who will be playing in his 17th game, leads in All-Star scoring with seven goals and five assists for 12 points, two more than his retired ex-teammate, Ted Lindsay.

Matte, whose brother Tom starred at Ohio State, had a hand in 26 of Miami's 28 points as the Redskins bounced Marshall from the ranks of the unbeaten, 28-7, last Saturday.

Biggs, a defensive end and tackle, turned in 14 tackles and assisted on six more as Ohio just missed winning its first game of the year over unbeaten Xavier. Xavier finally ended up on top, 21-19.

Against Xavier, the 6-foot, 200-pound Biggs burst through the Xavier line repeatedly to harass the Musketeers' ace passer, Carroll Williams, spilling him for at least 40 yards in losses.

Miami's football brochure says that Matte "needs work on passing, particularly in developing consistency in his delivery."

His performance against Marshall showed he may have developed that consistency. The Cleveland junion completed 10 of 16 aerials for 113 yards and two touchdowns. He also flipped a two-point conversion pass and scored twice himself on short runs.

Other backs considered were Al Bogan of Ohio U., Jack Anderson of Western Michigan, Willie Asburg of Kent, Jim Berkey of Toledo, Mike Weger of Bowling Green and Andy Socha of Marshall.

Nominees in the line included Ron Domin of Kent, Heath Wingate of Bowling Green, Fred Zimmerman of Toledo, Ken Simpson of Marshall, Nelson Jackson of Western and Frank Dwyer of Miami.

Paul Seymour, returning as coach of the Baltimore Bullets basketball team, once tried his hand as an outfielder with Elmira, N. Y. At the time the franchise was owned by the St. Louis Browns.

Bowling Green Clashes With Kent In Big Game

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Memorial Stadium in Kent should be filled to capacity Saturday when the Golden Flashes battle Bowling Green in the Mid-American Conference game of the week.

Kent State coach Leo Stang and Falcon mentor Bob Gibson agree on one thing—the contest is a crucial one for both schools.

Bowling Green (2-0) needed a late score to get by Toledo 21-14 last weekend and Kent also tallied late to come out with a 10-10 tie against Western Michigan.

Kent (2-0-1) certainly has enough incentive. For one thing, Homecoming Day is likely to draw 20,000 partisan rooters. For another, there's that 41-0 licking the Falcons imposed last year, Kent's worst of the season.

Gibson said Kent "probably is the best team we've faced all year. They have good size and are well balanced. Frankly, they may be too strong for us."

But the Falcon boss is quick to add that his offensive unit may be coming around. He particularly was pleased with his club's first touchdown drive against the Rockets, an 81-yard march in 15 plays.

Miami is at home to Ohio University and Marshall, beaten by Miami after four straight, is out side the loop against Louisville. Western (0-2-1) plays at Toledo (1-2) in the other league game.

NFL's Offensive Award Goes To Bears' Sayers

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Phenomenal rookie halfback Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears conceded today, "I think it may get difficult for me from now on" in National Football League play.

Sayers accepted modestly his distinction as The Associated Press Offensive Player of the Week after scoring four touchdowns over three different routes as the Bears whipped the Minnesota Vikings 45-37 Sunday.

"I'm very happy to get the honor," said the swift sensation from the University of Kansas. "But that victory over Minnesota was a team effort. Our defense functioned well and our offense moved the ball pretty good."

No Bear moved the ball better than Sayers, who:

Carried 13 times for 64 yards and one touchdown.

Caught four passes for 63 yards and two touchdowns.

Returned four kickoffs for 170 yards and one touchdown on a game-breaking 96-yard run.

And threw a left-handed 27-yard pass which set up a Bear field goal.

"I carried the ball quite a bit in the first half," said Sayers, who probably was the least excited man on Minnesota's field after his Sunday heroics.

"I got pretty tired in the second half, but Jon Arnett relieved me for five minutes and then I felt pretty good."

"I hope I can continue to help the Bears, but I think things may get a little more difficult for me. You finish one tough game in this league and next one gets tougher."

The Bears meet the Detroit Lions here Sunday.

Arkansas' Crockett Wins Lineman Of Week Award

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a good thing Bobby Crockett doesn't wear a coonskin cap like Davey did. The Arkansas end would have had plenty of trouble keeping it on with all the tumbling he did in the Razorbacks' 27-24 victory over Texas last Saturday.

Crockett's sparkling catches in Arkansas' late drive for the winning touchdown against the Longhorns made him The Associated Press Lineman of the Week.

The 6-foot-1, 195-pound senior caught five passes in Arkansas' 80-yard march downfield — the last one a 14-yarder that left the ball on the Texas one. Arkansas scored the winning touchdown on the next play.

Over-all, Crockett caught eight passes for 102 yards and one touchdown.

It wasn't his catches so much as his acrobatics that left Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles and Texas Coach Darrell Royal impressed.

"Crockett made some of the most fantastic catches I have ever seen," said Broyles. Royal nodded agreement, saying, "Lord, they were fantastic."

Crockett's grabs ate up most of the yardage Arkansas needed in that final drive that was climaxed by quarterback Jon Brittenum's one-yard plunge.

He gained 68 of the 80 yards with catches good for 22, 13, 8, 11 and 14 yards.

Numann's Goal Gives Warriors Win Over Royals

CINCINNATI (AP)—Paul Numann sank a 20-foot field goal with 10 seconds left in the game Tuesday to boost the San Francisco Warriors to a 100-99 National Basketball Association victory over the Cincinnati Royals.

Led by Jack Twyman and Jerry Lucas, the Royals tied the score late in the game at 84-84, and Lucas' three-point play put Cincinnati ahead. A few minutes later Twyman connected with a free throw to give the Royals a 92-87 lead with 3:22 left.

But the whole San Francisco team started hitting and Nate Thurmond tied it at 98-98 with a field goal 32 seconds before the game ended. Oscar Robertson's free throw—and his 32nd point of the game—gave Cincinnati a one-point lead but Neumann then sank his field goal after a time out.

Memphis Star Honored As Back Of Week

By DON MCLEOD

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Billy Fletcher's chunky build makes his look shorter than he is and more like a touch football than The Associated Press Back of the Week.

The soft-spoken youngster has talent which belies his modest demenor, although some of it admittedly was perfected playing touch football with his good friend Elvis Presley.

Fletcher, long since promoted from the touch circuit, almost single-handedly wrecked Mississippi State's football image last weekend with a record-breaking performance which won him the Back of the Week honors.

The baby-faced quarterback, who sprinkles his conversation with "sirs," passed for touchdowns of 26, 22 and 21 yards, ran five yards for one, kicked field goals of 44 and 28 yards and booted three extra points.

He had a hand or foot in every point that all but destroyed the previously unbeaten 10th-ranked Bulldogs 33-13 and reversed the luck of the previously winless Tigers.

Split end Bob Sherlag, who caught 10 Fletcher passes, including the touchdown throws, attests "Billy put those passes right where you want them."

Paul Davis, the Mississippi State coach, added his vote for Fletcher, calling the Memphis lad the greatest: "We just couldn't contain him."

Fletcher's response to the feat was a blushing: "This is the greatest night of my life."

And it must have been — the 5-foot-9, 180-pound star passed for a total 257 yards and ran for 94, setting school records for passing and total offense in a single game. He completed 18 of 30 passes.

Fletcher majors in construction technology and hopes for a career in construction or sales.

Howe To Lead Stars Against Cup Champs

MONTREAL (AP) — Gordie Howe, starting his 20th season in the National Hockey League, leads a team of NHL All-Stars against the Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens in the league's 19th annual All Star game tonight.

Howe, who will be playing in his 17th game, leads in All-Star scoring with seven goals and five assists for 12 points, two more than his retired ex-teammate, Ted Lindsay.

Jack Rated Favorite In Sahara Event

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The familiar figure of Jack Nicklaus loomed large as the favorite today with the start of the eighth annual Sahara Invitational golf tournament.

But three top golfers are missing from the entries—and may be in trouble with the Professional Golfers Association.

The two-day pro-amateur competition ended Tuesday, and the $111,111.11 total purse—a fascinating figure for Las Vegas—has melted to the mere, commonplace $100,000.

The pro-am was worth $11,111.11 and now the pros have to go it alone in the 72-hole medal play for the reduced figure.

Nicklaus, the Masters champion and 1963 winner in this tournament, flew into Las Vegas Tuesday night. To no one's surprise, including himself, he was the general pick to walk off with the $20,000 winner's purse when the tournament winds up Saturday.

Missing from the entries, and possibly under fire from the PGA, are Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema and Gary Player.

The situation has nothing to do with the Sahara event. It stems from the PGA-sponsored Haig and Haig Mixed Scotch Foursome at the La Costa Country Club at Carlsbad, Calif., last week.

The trio elected to compete in the Picadilly tournament in England without clearance from the PGA-backed sponsors at La Costa.

PGA regulations forbid its members from appearing in a non-PGA tournament in conflict with one of its own, unless a commitment was made two years prior to the event in question.

Neither Lema nor Player indicated any interest in playing here, but Palmer last Sunday called tournament director Herb McDonald and sought entry—one week too late.

The 72-hole tournament will be played over the 7,069-yard, par-36-35—71 Paradise Valley Golf Club.

Gardner Dickinson won the individual pro honors and $750 with a 68-68—136 in the pro-am tournament.

Ship Fire Claims 2 U.S. Army Prisoners

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — Two U.S. Army prisoners were asphyxiated when a fire broke out in the brig of the troopship Gen. W. H. Gordon, informed sources reported today.

The sources said guards attempted to rescue the two soldiers but were unable to save them. Military officials were reluctant to comment on the incident, but informed sources said the fire broke out just after the ship left Naha for an undisclosed destination.

A Navy spokesman refused to identify the soldiers until their next of kin were informed.

Syracuse 144, Manhattan 0. That was the score of the 1904 football game between the two teams. Manhattan no longer plays football.

Was Killed In Ambush

Ex-Teacher Believed U.S. Had Obligation In Viet

CAPE MAY COURT HOUSE, N.J. (AP) — Ray Elli, a former high school history teacher, believed the United States had an obligation to defend Viet Nam from the Communists.

He believed he had an obligation to his country. Ellis, a Naval Reservist during his five years of teaching, joined the Navy and volunteered for duty in Viet Nam.

He was killed in an ambush trying to save the Vietnamese sailors he had come to aid.

"My son was a friend to anyone who needed a friend," said his mother, Mrs. Arthur Ellis.

"Ray was fighting for his convictions in Viet Nam," she said. "He was there because he thought it was his duty to be there."

Growing up in this rural southern New Jersey community, the 6-foot-1, 210-pound Ellis was a good-natured youth who excelled in sports.

Ellis' father recalled that his son "wasn't the smartest boy in school but he wanted to go to college. And he did. And all the time, he loved to play football."

He played on the varsity team at Shippensburg State Teachers College in Pennsylvania. As a fullback, he was cocaptain his senior year.

After graduation, he taught history for one term in Seaford, Del., and then for four years in Gettysburg (Pa.) High School. All the time he was in the Naval Reserve. He married and had a daughter, Laura, now 11. His widow, Doris, and daughter live in Virginia Beach, Va.

He had been in the Navy about six years when he asked to be sent to Viet Nam. He arrived in Saigon June 2.

"He loved the Vietnamese," his mother said. "In his letters to me he would tell me how wonderful the people are."

He wrote to his aunt that American servicemen had to be in Viet Nam because "if we didn't stop (them) there it wouldn't be long before they would be at our own back door."

Ellis was buried Oct. 8 at Gettysburg National Cemetery, on the Gettysburg battlefield.

He has been recommended for a posthumous Silver Star.

New Assault Planned On Speed Mark

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP)—Another assault on the 536.71 mile per hour world land speed record was planned today, less than 24 hours after one failed Tuesday.

Craig Breedlove of Los Angeles, Calif., said he would run his jet-powered Spirit of Ambrica-Sonic I here in western Utah this morning.

Breedlove tried last week but failed when damage to his racer prevented a return run over the measured mile.

Some of the 25 jet-assisted takeoff rockets in Walt Arfons' Wingfoot Express malfunctioned during his record attempt Tuesday. He was forced to postpone further runs until at least Friday.

The rocket-powered car, driven by Bobby Tatroe, 28, of Grand Rapids, Mich., reached 438.65 m.p.h. through a measured mile.

But two rockets fell off—one when the car entered the mile and the other during the run. And some of the other rockets fired the wrong way.

Arfons said he could repair the body and wiring by Friday.

Breedlove said before his attempt today that the damage to his car has been repaired.

The world land speed record of 536.71 m.p.h. for jet-and rocket - powered cars is held by Walt's stepbrother, Art Arfons. Both are from Akron, Ohio.

Oldtimers Meet

VALE, Ore. (AP) — Among the 300 persons who signed the tattered and yellowed pages of the Malheur County Pioneer Assn. register at the group's 52nd annual reunion were two charter members, Mr. and Mrs. George McLaughlen. The group was organized in 1914 and to qualify as a pioneer charter members must have resided in the county since 1887. Oldest guest at this year's gathering was John Wall, 95, who homestated in the area in 1909.

Dick Kenney, Michigan State's barefooted kicker, booted a 49-yard field goal against Southern California last year. It was a Spartan record.

11 Hunters Die In 4 Days In Colorado

DURANGO, Col. (AP) — Eleven hunters have died in the first four days of Colorado's big-game hunting season. At the same time, the game kill is reported far below last year's bag.

Shooting accounted for three deaths and seven men died of heart attacks in the high country west of the Continental Divide. One hunter was crushed to death beneath a jeep.

Seven persons are reported missing in wide areas of snow, fog and rain.

A Game, Fish and Parks Department spokesman said deer kills are down 41 per cent and elk kills off 22 per cent compared with last year. The season opened last Saturday.

Gov. John A. Love said Tuesday he has discussed the possibility of requiring a gun-handling test before hunters could be issued big-game hunting licenses.

The season has not been without its bizarre incidents. Don Mallison of Hutchinson, Minn., had two horses in his truck Tuesday in White River National Forest, a northwestern Colorado elk region.

When the trail became steep, Mallison stopped the truck, unloaded the horses and tied them to a tree. He said he had walked about 40 feet from the animals when he heard a shot and one horse fell dead. Then a second shot rang out and the second horse toppled over.

Mallison could find no trace of the person firing the shots.

All Out For Wasps

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — Louis Parks opened a valve in the sprinkler system at Robertsville junior high to flush out a nest which some wasps had built in a pipe. He inadvertently set off a fire alarm. Two police cars, three fire trucks and some other officials quickly converged on the building. Parks grinned sheepishly and commented, "at least I got the wasps out."

Man's Condition Poor After Canton Shooting

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—An Akron man was listed in poor condition at Mercy Hospital here after being shot five times by a drug store owner who told police the man tried to rob him.

Fred Martin, about 35, told police he was about to close his store for the night when the man — tentatively identified by police as Robert Felton, 21, of Akron—entered and asked for aspirin.

Martin said he became suspicious and picked up his .38-caliber revolver before getting the aspirin. He said that as he returned to the counter the man pulled a .22-caliber pistol and said, "Give me the money—this is a stick-up."

The druggist said he pulled his own weapon and started shooting.

Jack Rated Favorite In Sahara Event

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The familiar figure of Jack Nicklaus loomed large as the favorite today with the start of the eighth annual Sahara Invitational golf tournament.

But three top golfers are missing from the entries—and may be in trouble with the Professional Golfers Association.

The two-day pro-amateur competition ended Tuesday, and the $111,111.11 total purse—a fascinating figure for Las Vegas—has melted to the mere, commonplace $100,000.

The pro-am was worth $11,111.11 and now the pros have to go it alone in the 72-hole medal play for the reduced figure.

Nicklaus, the Masters champion and 1963 winner in this tournament, flew into Las Vegas Tuesday night. To no one's surprise, including himself, he was the general pick to walk off with the $20,000 winner's purse when the tournament winds up Saturday.

Missing from the entries, and possibly under fire from the PGA, are Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema and Gary Player.

The situation has nothing to do with the Sahara event. It stems from the PGA-sponsored Haig and Haig Mixed Scotch Foursome at the La Costa Country Club at Carlsbad, Calif., last week.

The trio elected to compete in the Picadilly tournament in England without clearance from the PGA-backed sponsors at La Costa.

PGA regulations forbid its members from appearing in a non-PGA tournament in conflict with one of its own, unless a commitment was made two years prior to the event in question.

Neither Lema nor Player indicated any interest in playing here, but Palmer last Sunday called tournament director Herb McDonald and sought entry—one week too late.

The 72-hole tournament will be played over the 7,069-yard, par-36-35—71 Paradise Valley Golf Club.

Gardner Dickinson won the individual pro honors and $750 with a 68-68—136 in the pro-am tournament.

Ship Fire Claims 2 U.S. Army Prisoners

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — Two U.S. Army prisoners were asphyxiated when a fire broke out in the brig of the troopship Gen. W. H. Gordon, informed sources reported today.

The sources said guards attempted to rescue the two soldiers but were unable to save them. Military officials were reluctant to comment on the incident, but informed sources said the fire broke out just after the ship left Naha for an undisclosed destination.

A Navy spokesman refused to identify the soldiers until their next of kin were informed.

Syracuse 144, Manhattan 0. That was the score of the 1904 football game between the two teams. Manhattan no longer plays football.

Was Killed In Ambush

Ex-Teacher Believed U.S. Had Obligation In Viet

CAPE MAY COURT HOUSE, N.J. (AP) — Ray Elli, a former high school history teacher, believed the United States had an obligation to defend Viet Nam from the Communists.

He believed he had an obligation to his country. Ellis, a Naval Reservist during his five years of teaching, joined the Navy and volunteered for duty in Viet Nam.

He was killed in an ambush trying to save the Vietnamese sailors he had come to aid.

"My son was a friend to anyone who needed a friend," said his mother, Mrs. Arthur Ellis.

"Ray was fighting for his convictions in Viet Nam," she said. "He was there because he thought it was his duty to be there."

Growing up in this rural southern New Jersey community, the 6-foot-1, 210-pound Ellis was a good-natured youth who excelled in sports.

Ellis' father recalled that his son "wasn't the smartest boy in school but he wanted to go to college. And he did. And all the time, he loved to play football."

He played on the varsity team at Shippensburg State Teachers College in Pennsylvania. As a fullback, he was cocaptain his senior year.

After graduation, he taught history for one term in Seaford, Del., and then for four years in Gettysburg (Pa.) High School. All the time he was in the Naval Reserve. He married and had a daughter, Laura, now 11. His widow, Doris, and daughter live in Virginia Beach, Va.

He had been in the Navy about six years when he asked to be sent to Viet Nam. He arrived in Saigon June 2.

"He loved the Vietnamese," his mother said. "In his letters to me he would tell me how wonderful the people are."

He wrote to his aunt that American servicemen had to be in Viet Nam because "if we didn't stop (them) there it wouldn't be long before they would be at our own back door."

Ellis was buried Oct. 8 at Gettysburg National Cemetery, on the Gettysburg battlefield.

He has been recommended for a posthumous Silver Star.

New Assault Planned On Speed Mark

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP)—Another assault on the 536.71 mile per hour world land speed record was planned today, less than 24 hours after one failed Tuesday.

Craig Breedlove of Los Angeles, Calif., said he would run his jet-powered Spirit of Ambrica-Sonic I here in western Utah this morning.

Breedlove tried last week but failed when damage to his racer prevented a return run over the measured mile.

Some of the 25 jet-assisted takeoff rockets in Walt Arfons' Wingfoot Express malfunctioned during his record attempt Tuesday. He was forced to postpone further runs until at least Friday.

The rocket-powered car, driven by Bobby Tatroe, 28, of Grand Rapids, Mich., reached 438.65 m.p.h. through a measured mile.

But two rockets fell off—one when the car entered the mile and the other during the run. And some of the other rockets fired the wrong way.

Arfons said he could repair the body and wiring by Friday.

Breedlove said before his attempt today that the damage to his car has been repaired.

The world land speed record of 536.71 m.p.h. for jet-and rocket - powered cars is held by Walt's stepbrother, Art Arfons. Both are from Akron, Ohio.

Oldtimers Meet

VALE, Ore. (AP) — Among the 300 persons who signed the tattered and yellowed pages of the Malheur County Pioneer Assn. register at the group's 52nd annual reunion were two charter members, Mr. and Mrs. George McLaughlen. The group was organized in 1914 and to qualify as a pioneer charter members must have resided in the county since 1887. Oldest guest at this year's gathering was John Wall, 95, who homestated in the area in 1909.

Dick Kenney, Michigan State's barefooted kicker, booted a 49-yard field goal against Southern California last year. It was a Spartan record.

11 Hunters Die In 4 Days In Colorado

DURANGO, Col. (AP) — Eleven hunters have died in the first four days of Colorado's big-game hunting season. At the same time, the game kill is reported far below last year's bag.

Shooting accounted for three deaths and seven men died of heart attacks in the high country west of the Continental Divide. One hunter was crushed to death beneath a jeep.

Seven persons are reported missing in wide areas of snow, fog and rain.

A Game, Fish and Parks Department spokesman said deer kills are down 41 per cent and elk kills off 22 per cent compared with last year. The season opened last Saturday.

Gov. John A. Love said Tuesday he has discussed the possibility of requiring a gun-handling test before hunters could be issued big-game hunting licenses.

The season has not been without its bizarre incidents. Don Mallison of Hutchinson, Minn., had two horses in his truck Tuesday in White River National Forest, a northwestern Colorado elk region.

When the trail became steep, Mallison stopped the truck, unloaded the horses and tied them to a tree. He said he had walked about 40 feet from the animals when he heard a shot and one horse fell dead. Then a second shot rang out and the second horse toppled over.

Mallison could find no trace of the person firing the shots.

All Out For Wasps

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — Louis Parks opened a valve in the sprinkler system at Robertsville junior high to flush out a nest which some wasps had built in a pipe. He inadvertently set off a fire alarm. Two police cars, three fire trucks and some other officials quickly converged on the building. Parks grinned sheepishly and commented, "at least I got the wasps out."

Man's Condition Poor After Canton Shooting

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—An Akron man was listed in poor condition at Mercy Hospital here after being shot five times by a drug store owner who told police the man tried to rob him.

Fred Martin, about 35, told police he was about to close his store for the night when the man — tentatively identified by police as Robert Felton, 21, of Akron—entered and asked for aspirin.

Martin said he became suspicious and picked up his .38-caliber revolver before getting the aspirin. He said that as he returned to the counter the man pulled a .22-caliber pistol and said, "Give me the money—this is a stick-up."

The druggist said he pulled his own weapon and started shooting.

On Nursing Home Regulations

New Ohio Law In Effect

By AL GOLDBERG
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A new state law, which had its beginnings with the tragic fire deaths of 63 helpless, elderly patients in a Northern Ohio nursing home two years ago, went into effect today.

What the bill, enacted by the Ohio Legislature in July, does specifically is provide the means for carrying out a new set of regulations designed to upgrade the state's 1,200 nursing and homes. The regulations went into effect last December after four years of litigation, but their enforcement was difficult because the role of the state and local governments in control over nursing homes was not clearly defined.

The regulations were first proposed in 1959 and approved by the Ohio Public Health Council in 1960.

But the fire at the Golden Age Nursing Home near Fitchville in Huron County on Nov. 23, 1963, shocked the conscience of the state.

Investigation showed that faulty electrical wiring caused the blaze and blamed it on the carelessness of the owners, who, investigators said, had received repeated warnings from blown fuses, switches and lights.

Gov. James A. Rhodes ordered immediate inspections of all nursing homes. Inspection of the 1,200 homes was accomplished within 60 days with numerous discrepancies found and fixed.

The fire and its subsequent investigations pointed up the weak control the state had over the homes. The new law was drawn up.

The regulations include specific provisions for building inspection—both structurally and for fire hazards. The legislation defines responsibility for such inspections.

Under old rules, it was possible for eight persons to inspect a home prior to licensing, says Samuel G. Fraley, head of the health department's nursing home program. These would include both state and local representatives from building divisions, fire departments and the state fire marshal's office and health departments. This brought complaints from operators that one inspector told him one thing and later another contradicted it.

Under the new law, the number of possible inspectors is reduced to three, one for fire, one for the building itself and one for health and sanitation.

The provision most objected to by the operators deals with personnel. Under old rules, homes were required to have only one employe for every four patients. Thus, Fraley said, if a home had more than 100 patients the only requirement was that it had 25 employes, but only one nurse might be on duty at any one time.

In the future, however, although the employe-patient ratio still is one to four, sufficient nursing personnel will be required on duty at all times.

The new space requirements become effective Jan. 1, 1966. They call for an increase of from 60 to 80 and 100 square feet per patient for newly - licensed homes and from 60 to 70 and 100 square feet for homes first licensed prior to 1958. The structural requirements adhere strictly to Ohio's building code.

These new space requirements were fought hard by the operators because they will force many homes to decrease the number of patients they now hold.

Many of the homes still do not measure up to the regulations because the standards they set require sizable outlays of cash which in many cases means a large burden on their budgets. These are being given time to comply.

Chester Street Department Begins To Pick Up Leaves

Lester Bishop, street commissioner, announced at the meeting of Chester City Council Tuesday night that the street department will pick up leaves placed in containers by residents begining today.

City Hall need not be contacted if the containers are left in an appropriate pickup zone, he said.

Councilman Walter McSwegin relayed a request of the Kiwanis Club for use of the City Hall auditorium for pancake suppers Nov. 3 and 4 from 5 to 8 p.m. Approval was granted.

Basketball playing in the auditorium on the second floor of the City Building was discussed. It was agreed to permit organized teams to play free of charge. Others using the facilities will be charged hourly rates of $1.50 during the day and $2 at night, Roy Cashdollar, city clerk, announced.

The traffic and parking problem in Church Alley was discussed, with a possible ordinance considered and then tabled for further study.

Remittances in the amount of $1,360.94 were ordered turned into the city treasury and payment of bills totaling $1,519.19 was approved.

All councilmen were present with the exception of Charles Kology. Mayor Harry Abrams also attended the session.

Portugal's wine production in 1964 was more than 1.4 billion quarts, an increase of five per cent over the preceding year.

Pope Plan Aims To Bring Younger Men Into Curia

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI is reported ready to issue new regulations designed to bring new and younger men into the top levels of the Roman Curia.

The Curia, the central administrative body of the Roman Catholic Church, is dominated by conservative officials, most of them Italian. Progressives at the Vatican Ecumenical Council have been urging major reforms to internationalize the organization and end the entrenchment of the old men at the top.

Vatican sources said the Pope would issue a two-part document which would:

—Make 70 the mandatory retirement age for all high positions in the Curia, including cardinals and papal nuncios of archbishop's rank.

—Provide for automatic suspension from their jobs of all cardinals who head Curia departments upon the death of a Pope. The new Pope could then replace or retain each man.

It was not known if the retirement rule would apply to those now in control of the 12 congregations, three tribunals and six special offices that make up the Curia. Of 28 cardinals in ranking Curia posts, 22 are over 70.

They include the militant leader of the conservative faction in the Ecumenical Council, Alfredo Ottaviani, head of the Holy Office, who will be 75 next week; Amleto Cicognani, the 82-year-old secretary of state, and Eugene Tisserant, 81, the prefect of the Ceremonial Congregation and the dean of the College of Cardinals.

One of the church's leading progressives, Augustin Cardinal Bea, is 84. But he heads the Vatican's Christian Unity Secretariat, and his office is not classed as part of the Curia.

The Pope is expected to issue his document by the time the Ecumenical Council ends in December, before he holds his second consistory to name new cardinals. Some of these will be named also to Curia posts.

Pope Paul said in the fall of 1963, three months after his election, that the Curia would be streamlined to bring it more in tune with the needs of the modern church.

On Nursing Home Regulations

New Ohio Law In Effect

By AL GOLDBERG
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A new state law, which had its beginnings with the tragic fire deaths of 63 helpless, elderly patients in a Northern Ohio nursing home two years ago, went into effect today.

What the bill, enacted by the Ohio Legislature in July, does specifically is provide the means for carrying out a new set of regulations designed to upgrade the state's 1,200 nursing and homes. The regulations went into effect last December after four years of litigation, but their enforcement was difficult because the role of the state and local governments in control over nursing homes was not clearly defined.

The regulations were first proposed in 1959 and approved by the Ohio Public Health Council in 1960.

But the fire at the Golden Age Nursing Home near Fitchville in Huron County on Nov. 23, 1963, shocked the conscience of the state.

Investigation showed that faulty electrical wiring caused the blaze and blamed it on the carelessness of the owners, who, investigators said, had received repeated warnings from blown fuses, switches and lights.

Gov. James A. Rhodes ordered immediate inspections of all nursing homes. Inspection of the 1,200 homes was accomplished within 60 days with numerous discrepancies found and fixed.

The fire and its subsequent investigations pointed up the weak control the state had over the homes. The new law was drawn up.

The regulations include specific provisions for building inspection—both structurally and for fire hazards. The legislation defines responsibility for such inspections.

Under old rules, it was possible for eight persons to inspect a home prior to licensing, says Samuel G. Fraley, head of the health department's nursing home program. These would include both state and local representatives from building divisions, fire departments and the state fire marshal's office and health departments. This brought complaints from operators that one inspector told him one thing and later another contradicted it.

Under the new law, the number of possible inspectors is reduced to three, one for fire, one for the building itself and one for health and sanitation.

The provision most objected to by the operators deals with personnel. Under old rules, homes were required to have only one employe for every four patients. Thus, Fraley said, if a home had more than 100 patients the only requirement was that it had 25 employes, but only one nurse might be on duty at any one time.

In the future, however, although the employe-patient ratio still is one to four, sufficient nursing personnel will be required on duty at all times.

The new space requirements become effective Jan. 1, 1966. They call for an increase of from 60 to 80 and 100 square feet per patient for newly - licensed homes and from 60 to 70 and 100 square feet for homes first licensed prior to 1958. The structural requirements adhere strictly to Ohio's building code.

These new space requirements were fought hard by the operators because they will force many homes to decrease the number of patients they now hold.

Many of the homes still do not measure up to the regulations because the standards they set require sizable outlays of cash which in many cases means a large burden on their budgets. These are being given time to comply.

$12 Million Approved For Kent Subsidy Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee has approved $12.4 million for the administration's proposed rent subsidy program. Its future is far from secure, however.

The House already has rejected the fund request, and a Senate floor fight appeared in the offing later this week.

Under the rent supplement program, the government would pay non-profit owners or developers the difference between 25 per cent of the occupant's income and the rent for the unit.

The original dimensions of the Washington Monument were changed as a result of research by George Marsh, a United States minister to Italy. A true obelisk, he reported, would have a height about 10 times its base width, hence the monument's final proportions: 555 feet 5⅛ inches high to a base 55 feet 1½ inches square.

Student's Sentence: An Essay On Radar

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Jerald Hall, a Freno State College student charged with speeding, told Judge George Hopper he doubted the accuracy of police radar equipment used to clock his car's speed.

He said the equipment could not record accurately the speeds of two cars traveling a short distance apart.

Judge Hopper accompanied Hall and policemen to a city street Tuesday and checked Hall's theory. It was wrong. Hall was found guilty.

For a penalty, the judge suspended his sentence, but told Hall to write a 1,000-word essay entitled: "Radar—Its History and Application in Traffic Control and Methods of Improving Its Use."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee has approved $12.4 million for the administration's proposed rent subsidy program. Its future is far from secure, however.

The House already has rejected the fund request, and a Senate floor fight appeared in the offing later this week.

Under the rent supplement program, the government would pay non-profit owners or developers the difference between 25 per cent of the occupant's income and the rent for the unit.

The original dimensions of the Washington Monument were changed as a result of research by George Marsh, a United States minister to Italy. A true obelisk, he reported, would have a height about 10 times its base width, hence the monument's final proportions: 555 feet 5⅛ inches high to a base 55 feet 1½ inches square.

5.7 Million Sign Up Under Medicare Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 5.7 million elderly Americans have signed up for voluntary medicare insurance, the Social Security Administration says.

The voluntary plan supplements the basic medicare program which pays hospital bills for those 65 and older. Both go into effect next July 1.

The voluntary plan covers doctor bills, and costs $3 a month.

Lisbon Club Serves As Host To District Music Groups

LISBON — The Lisbon Music Study Club, a member of both the Ohio and the national federation of music clubs, played host to the fall conference of the Middle - East district Saturday at the Methodist Church.

The district is comprised of clubs from Carrollton, Newcomerstown, the New Philadelphia-Dover area, Columbiana, Salem and Lisbon.

Mrs. William E. Pannier, president of the Lisbon club, welcomed the guests and presided during the conference.

At the morning business session, members voted to petition the Ohio Federation of Music Clubs to combine the Middle-East and the North-East districts.

Mrs. Dallas Hepburn, district chairman of audio - visual education, was introduced along with other district chairmen and state officers.

Mrs. Joseph Barnes of Salem, the former Miss Evelyn Greer of Lisbon, was presented an "award of excellence" by Mrs. J. Davis Wilson of New Philadelphia, president of the M-E district, for her outstanding work as district chairman during National Music Week last year. She is serving again as district chairman this year.

The program included: Vocal solos, Mrs. Donald Lewis, accompanied by Mrs. Alfred D'Aliberti of Cleveland; organ selections, Marshall P. Bailey of Salem, an organ instructor at Mt. Union College; vocal solo, Mrs. John Blocksom, accompanied by Mrs. Charles R. McNally; selections by the Music Club Chorus, assisted by William S. Frew, John Hammitt, Robert Cameron and S. Edward Nold.

Committee chairmen in charge of the event were Mrs. Kenneth Foster and Mrs. Nold, reservations and registration; Mrs. Blocksom, Mrs. W. D. Bergert, Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Nold, decorations; Mrs. John Trunick, social chairman, and Mrs. Pannier, program.

Student's Sentence: An Essay On Radar

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Jerald Hall, a Freno State College student charged with speeding, told Judge George Hopper he doubted the accuracy of police radar equipment used to clock his car's speed.

He said the equipment could not record accurately the speeds of two cars traveling a short distance apart.

Judge Hopper accompanied Hall and policemen to a city street Tuesday and checked Hall's theory. It was wrong. Hall was found guilty.

For a penalty, the judge suspended his sentence, but told Hall to write a 1,000-word essay entitled: "Radar—Its History and Application in Traffic Control and Methods of Improving Its Use."

Issue 3 Would Let Judge Serve In Several Courts

By REED SMITH
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More efficient use of "judicial power" without merging courts is proposed in Issue 3 on election ballots next month.

Submitted to voters by the legislature in the form of an amendment to the state constitution, the proposal seeks to allow a judge in counties under 40,000 population to serve in more than one court.

On the basis of the last federal census, 43 of Ohio's 88 counties would be eligible to use the plan.

Approval by a majority of those voting Nov. 2 is needed for adoption of the amendment. Further action by the next legislature would be required to implement an adopted proposal.

The plan would allow counties under 40,000 population to permit the same judge to serve in common pleas, probate, juvenile municipal and county courts.

That issue could be placed before voters in an eligible county by unanimous vote of county commissioners or by petitions bearing signatures equal to at leas' 10 per cent of those voting for governor in the last election.

A favorable majority vote then would be needed for approval in the county.

The plan also provides for election of a judge to serve in multi-court capacity. But such an election would not prevent a judge in one of the courts from serving out the term to which he was elected.

Sen. Fred L. Hoffman, R-Hamilton, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and sponsor of the proposal, said it was designed "to provide for more efficient use of judicial power in small counties."

"It also tackles the problem of getting candidates for judicial offices," he added, "by enabling the Legislature to authorize one judge to serve in more than one court and receive a higher salary."

Ex-Convict From California Charged In Slaying Woman

CLEVELAND (AP) — Martin U. Still Jr. sat in his jail cell Tuesday and said:

"I'm sorry, damned sorry. I wish it had been me instead of her. But I guess anything I say sounds rather facetious."

Still, 28, an ex-convict from California, was charged Tuesday with the first-degree murder in the slaying of Mrs. James Kosciewicz, 46, mother of three from suburban Valley View.

His companion, Vincent J. Podojil, 28, an ex-convict from Hollywood, Calif., pleaded innocent to four charges in Garfield Heights Municipal Court. He was held in lieu of $100,000 bond on each charge.

Mrs. Kosciewicz was killed early Sunday when she and Harry E. Scott, 38, of Bath, jumped into the Ohio Canal to escape their abductor. She was shot in the head when she came up for air. Scott was not hit.

Still says he doesn't remember much of what happened.

"I've been drinking since I was 16 or 17-year-old and all the trouble I've ever been in came when I was drunk. I remember being in a bar about 10 (p.m.). But I don't remember much after about the third or fourth bar.

"I first learned of what happened when they came to arrest me at the motel in Akron. I was shocked when they told me. It's all fuzzy in my mind."

Authorities will ask the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury to return murder indictments against the two men, said Valley View Police Chief Charles Dalton.

Podojil is charged with robbery, assault with a dangerous weapon and abduction and is also charged with the $1,000 holdup of a Garfield Heights tavern.

Under Ohio law a participant in a robbery which results in death can be charged with first-degree murder.

Police said Scott and Mrs. Kosciewicz were abducted in a robbery attempt in Independence and taken to the banks of the Ohio Canal where they attempted their escape.

AEC Head Invited To Inspect Ohio Site For Atom Smasher

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Reps. William Harsha, a Republican, and Walter Moeller, a Democrat, have invited the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission to accompany them on a personal inspection of a proposed Pike County site in a bid to win the $348 million atom smasher for Southern Ohio.

The invitation issued Tuesday to Glenn Seaborg was the latest move in the dispute over whether the facility should be located in Northern or Southern Ohio. This depends, of course, on whether Ohio is awarded the plum at all.

Harsha, of Portsmouth, and Moeller, of Lancaster, asked Seaborg to inspect the site near Waverly after Harsha openly accused fellow Republican, Rep. John M. Ashbrook of Johnstown, of "a complete lack of understanding for the welfare of the citizens in the Appalachian area of Ohio."

Harsha was referring to a release issued last week by Ashbrook charging that Democratic Rep. Michael Kirwan of Youngstown was trying "to scuttle" Ohio's chances of landing the project by not supporting the Ravenna Arsenal site in Northeast Ohio. Harsha insisted, as did Kirwan, that the facility should not be located at Ravenna where they say there is full employment.

The Republican said that Kirwan's support of the Waverly site "clearly shows his compassion for the unemployed and his concern for the welfare of the idle communities in Appalachia."

Ravenna, Waverly and a site near Marietta are the three Ohio sites among 85 still under consideration by the AEC.

Harsha was referring to a release issued last week by Ashbrook charging that Democratic Rep. Michael Kirwan of Youngstown was trying "to scuttle" Ohio's chances of landing the project by not supporting the Ravenna Arsenal site in Northeast Ohio. Harsha insisted, as did Kirwan, that the facility should not be located at Ravenna where they say there is full employment.

The Republican said that Kirwan's support of the Waverly site "clearly shows his compassion for the unemployed and his concern for the welfare of the idle communities in Appalachia."

Ravenna, Waverly and a site near Marietta are the three Ohio sites among 85 still under consideration by the AEC.

W. T. Pomeroy Appointed Scout District's Chairman

William T. Pomeroy Jr. of East Liverpool was named district chairman of the Cherokee Boy Scout District of Columbiana County during the meeting of the committee Tuesday night at the Ohio Power Co. Twenty-five were present.

Pomeroy has been serving as vice chairman of the district and is a member of the council's executive board.

The district has instituted a new plan of operation with the motto, "One Meeting-One Night-One Place" in which all six operating committees and the commission staff will meet at the same place on the same night. "It is hoped that the plan will supplement better communications and coordination of the program," Scout officials said.

A highlight of the meeting was the introduction of Richard D. Dutcher, assistant national director of training who will be working with the Scout units in the district for the next four weeks.

Reports were presented from various committee chairmen.

Historical Sites Development Is Urged In W.Va.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Development at 11 historical sites in West Virginia is suggested in a federally financed study aimed at spurring tourism. The study, released Tuesday, was prepared by Wheeling W.VA. College.

Improvements are proposed at Robert E. Lee's headquarters at Meadow Bluff, Greenbrier County, and another Civil War site-Camp allegheny in Pocahontas County.

Also suggested are development of Erskine House as a lodge in Salt Sulphur Springs, establishment of a state park at the site of an Indian village near Buffalo in Putnam County and a chemical industry museum at the site of the old salt works in Malden, Kanawha County.

A $304,000 coal museum would be built at the rear of the exhibition coal mine in Raleigh County, and improvements made at the nearby Stotesbury museum.

Early oil industry sites at Elizabeth and Burning Springs in Wirt County and at Volcano in Wood County would be restored.

The history of Berkeley Springs in Morgan County would be highlighted for tourists.

Former Resident Wins Recognition For Naval Flag

An artistic creation of a former East Liverpool resident has won special recognition at Radioman "A" School at Bainbridge, Md.

It was a huge class flag painted by Bruce E. Watson, RMSN, and presented the school at graduation exercises earlier this month.

Watson, who now resides in Lakeland, Fla., was the son of the late Robert L. Watson of Chester Ave. and is the grandson of Mrs. Charles H. Watson of 842 Chester Ave. He moved to Florida in 1960.

Watson, who had three years of art at Lakeland Senior High School, spent about two weeks of his off-duty time to complete the flag, which symbolizes the "Old and the New Navy"—both striving for the same goal. The theme of the flag, "Peace through Communications," was selected by the entire class.

Naval vessels, past and present, are featured in the painting with the United Nations seal in the middle.

Whales, sea lions and some seals sleep under water, coming to the surface only occasionally to breathe.

Princess Margaret Plans To Attend Hollywood Ball

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Movieland' social coup of the year — Princess Margaret at the WAIF Ball Nov. 8 — fell right out of the royal blue.

The princess herself asked to be invited, says Jane Russell, founder of the World Adoption International Fund group.

The actress said: "We owe it all to Sharman Douglas, a charter member of WAIF. She has been telling the princess for years that if ever she came to the United States, she should attend our ball which is really a fun ball.

"We always try to have visiting royalty as guests of honor but we never held any hope of getting the British royal family. Then a few months ago, the British consul-general here called Mrs. Bill Welsh, who is president of the local chapter. He said that Princess Margaret wondered if she might attend the ball on her visit to the United States.

"'You know she can,' were Mrs. Welsh's enthusiastic words."

Sharman Douglas is the daughter of Lewis Douglas, former ambassador to Britain. As a child, her London playmates were the future Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret. They have remained friends and Sharman will travel with the princess on her 20-day tour of the United States.

The ball will be held at the Hollywood Palladium, home of Lawrence Welk and his television champagne bubbles.

Lyle Wheeler, movie art director who won an Oscar for "Gone With the Wind," will redo the big dance hall for the occasion. Jack L. Warner is loaning the big chandeliers used in the ball scene of "My Fair Lady."

The actress said the princess is very much interested in the worldwide work WAIF has done in placing 15,000 orphans in good homes.

The actress founded WAIF in 1955 after she and former football star Bob Waterfield adopted the first of their three adopted children. Tommy, the first, came from London.

Since then WAIF has taken up so much of her time that her current film, "Johnny Reno," is her first movie in eight years.

There are 132 rooms and 16 baths in the White House.

Elects Governor Next Month

Third Party Movement Seen In Virginia Voting

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia, solidly Democratic at the state level since the 1880s, names a governor next month in an election that contains the uncertain ingredient of a fervid third party movement.

And the Republicans, besought by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and other national party leaders to go all out in the interest of lifting party morale across the nation — as well as local victory — are actively working at their uphill task.

In this they may get unintended aid from the new Virginia Conservative party. Its campaign appears aimed at the strongly conservative-segregationist elements of both major parties.

Conservative ticket strength is conceded to be strongest in south-central agricultural Virginia, normally a bastion of the state Democratic organization headed by Sen. Harry F. Byrd. So it seems likely the third party will take a deeper cut from the Democratic side.

Democrats who nominated an unopposed state ticket without the friction of a primary scrap are displaying a unity not seen in years. They are campaigning harder than usual but are showing no signs of any real apprehension.

Mills E. Godwin Jr., 50, an attorney from Suffolk, who is the present lieutenant governor, is the Democratic organization candidate for governor. His running mates for the only other statewide offices are Fred G. Pollard, a Richmond attorney, for lieutenant governor; and Robert Y. Button, the present attorney general, seeking re-election.

Against the Democrats, the Republicans have arrayed A. Linwood Holton, 42, a Roanoke attorney, for governor; Vincent F. Callahan, a northern Virginia publisher, for lieutenant governor; and D. Dortch Warriner, a south-central Virginia lawyer, for attorney general.

The Conservative party candidate for governor is William J. Story, 54, assistant school superintendent of Chesapeake. His running mates are Reed Putney, a Goochland businessman, and John W. Carter of Danville.

Virginians will also name 140 members of the legislature in the Nov. 2 election. Republicans seek 50 of the 100 House seats and 12 in the 40-member Senate. Their present strength in the legislature is 11 in the House and three in the Senate.

The Republican and Democratic platforms are considered too liberal by the Conservative party, but its main blasts are at Democrat Godwin.

Godwin endorsed President Johnson last year and rode through Virginia on the Lady Bird Special when the First Lady campaigned through the South.

Repulbcian Holton needles Godwin as one of the architects of the state's program of massive resistance to school integration in the late 1950s but who is now running as a champion of public education.

Godwin's answer is that it provided a cooling-off period and that the program was abandoned when Virginia's own Supreme Court held the legislation unconstitutional.

Republicans are publicly insisting they are headed for an upset. And if they should unhorse the Democrats, it would end an unbroken line of Democratic governors of Virginia that started with Fitzhugh Lee — the nephew of Robert E. Lee, and a cavalry instructor at West Point — in 1886.

Traffic Light Placed At Glenmoor Corner

State Highway Department crews erected a traffic light Tuesday at Glenmoor's busiest intersection — the junction of State Route 267 and the Y. & O. Rd.

It's a double signal for increased visibility — with two red, two amber and two green lights facing in each of four directions. The only traffic control at the intersection previously was a stop sign on the Y. & O. Rd. which gave the right-of-way to traffic on the state route.

Erection of the signal was the climax of a series of Glenmoor community campaigns. The first was launched as far back as 15 years ago and the latest was last summer. Residents cited the high accident hazard at the busy corner as the primary factor in requesting the signal.

Elects Governor Next Month

Third Party Movement Seen In Virginia Voting

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia, solidly Democratic at the state level since the 1880s, names a governor next month in an election that contains the uncertain ingredient of a fervid third party movement.

And the Republicans, besought by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and other national party leaders to go all out in the interest of lifting party morale across the nation — as well as local victory — are actively working at their uphill task.

In this they may get unintended aid from the new Virginia Conservative party. Its campaign appears aimed at the strongly conservative-segregationist elements of both major parties.

Conservative ticket strength is conceded to be strongest in south-central agricultural Virginia, normally a bastion of the state Democratic organization headed by Sen. Harry F. Byrd. So it seems likely the third party will take a deeper cut from the Democratic side.

Democrats who nominated an unopposed state ticket without the friction of a primary scrap are displaying a unity not seen in years. They are campaigning harder than usual but are showing no signs of any real apprehension.

Mills E. Godwin Jr., 50, an attorney from Suffolk, who is the present lieutenant governor, is the Democratic organization candidate for governor. His running mates for the only other statewide offices are Fred G. Pollard, a Richmond attorney, for lieutenant governor; and Robert Y. Button, the present attorney general, seeking re-election.

Against the Democrats, the Republicans have arrayed A. Linwood Holton, 42, a Roanoke attorney, for governor; Vincent F. Callahan, a northern Virginia publisher, for lieutenant governor; and D. Dortch Warriner, a south-central Virginia lawyer, for attorney general.

The Conservative party candidate for governor is William J. Story, 54, assistant school superintendent of Chesapeake. His running mates are Reed Putney, a Goochland businessman, and John W. Carter of Danville.

Virginians will also name 140 members of the legislature in the Nov. 2 election. Republicans seek 50 of the 100 House seats and 12 in the 40-member Senate. Their present strength in the legislature is 11 in the House and three in the Senate.

The Republican and Democratic platforms are considered too liberal by the Conservative party, but its main blasts are at Democrat Godwin.

Godwin endorsed President Johnson last year and rode through Virginia on the Lady Bird Special when the First Lady campaigned through the South.

Repulbcian Holton needles Godwin as one of the architects of the state's program of massive resistance to school integration in the late 1950s but who is now running as a champion of public education.

Godwin's answer is that it provided a cooling-off period and that the program was abandoned when Virginia's own Supreme Court held the legislation unconstitutional.

Republicans are publicly insisting they are headed for an upset. And if they should unhorse the Democrats, it would end an unbroken line of Democratic governors of Virginia that started with Fitzhugh Lee — the nephew of Robert E. Lee, and a cavalry instructor at West Point — in 1886.

CATV Asks Ordinance For Chester Operation

Representatives of CATV of Ohio Valley, Inc., submitted a letter of application to Chester City Council during its meeting Tuesday night requesting an ordinance to permit the corporation to build and operate a CATV system in Chester.

The action followed an earlier visit on Oct. 5, when the system was explained by William R. Webber of East Liverpool, systems manager of the concern; Jackman Vodrey, East Liverpool attorney who is secretary, and Ralph R. Betts of Rego Industries, Inc., which merged with Columbiana CATV, Inc., to form the Ohio Valley company.

—:—

THE LETTER, read to Council members by Roy Cashdollar, city clerk, pointed out that the system would intially have facilities for 12 TV channels, with transmissions from Pittsburgh, Steubenville, Wheeling, Cleveland and Youngstown.

Betts added that the use of microwave broadcasting in the future would permit stations as far away as New York to be included.

The letter also pointed out that customers do not sign a contract and are under no obligation to use the facilities. Furthermore, service paid for by the tenth of the month in which rendered would bring a 25-cent discount.

Additional benefits would result to the customers should City Council decide to waive all or part of the 4 per cent of gross offered it. Customer billing could run as low as $4.50 a month, from a maximum of $4.95 a month.

IT WAS emphasized that no rate increases would be put into effect without the consent of Council and that, upon request of Council free service and installation would be given public and parochial schools, city buildings and fire houses if located within the cable area.

Cashdollar asked what the immediate result would be should the firm be given the go-ahead. Betts replied that the company would proceed with the installation, subject to pole clearance, and that a performance bond and insurance coverage to relieve the city of liability would be provided by CATV.

When asked by Councilman Donald Hissam when the East Liverpool system will be in operation, Betts stated that a completion date of three months from now is anticipated.

City Solicitor James Jordan, who had been questioned at the previous meeting regarding possible legal problems involving interstate rates, state utility laws and jurisdictional matters, informed the councilmen that he had not yet received replies to all his inquiries throughout the state and suggested they take more time to study the application.

Upon the recommendation of Councilmen Percy Willison and Hissam, the members decided to hold a caucus prior to their meeting next month.

Vodrey distributed copies of the East Liverpool ordinance for their inspection.

Webber invited the councilmen to contact the CATV office in East Liverpool regarding any questions they might have and to visit the office in person to discuss technical aspects of the system with the engineer.

GOETTINGEN, Germany (AP)—An East German refugee fled unharmed through barbed wire and a hail of 25 Communist bullets into West Germany Tuesday, officials reported.

Astronomers Differing Over Celestial 'Show'

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The comet Ikeya-Seki raced within a few million miles of the sun today — as astronomers differed on whether it will put on the spectacular celestial show forecast for tonight and Thursday morning.

The comet, streaking in from the edge of the solar system, is expected to whip around the sun and start back during a five-hour period beginning at 10 p.m. Pacific Daylight Time.

Astronomers have predicted solar radiation would light up the frozen gases in the comet's 10-million-mile tail and make it visible during sunrise and sunset hours around the globe.

Scientists who tried to observe the comet from a plane over the Pacific Tuesday said it was brightening slowly, however, and might not even be visible to the naked eye tonight.

California Institute of Technology astronomers said the comet might only be following the behavior of a comet which passed near the sun in 1882.

That one virtually disappeared from view for two days before it reached the sun, then turned very bright and exploded into several pieces. This could happen to Ikeya-Seki, the Caltech astronomers said.

The airborne expedition, flying from Honolulu to Midway Island and back, hopes to observe the comet at sunset today when the plane is near Midway and again at sunrise as it approaches Hawaii.

Mid-Pacific is one of the best places to view the comet during its hairpin loop around the sun. The other side of the earth will be in darkness during those hours. The swing-around also may be visible from Hawaii, New Zealand, Australia and parts of Asia.

Other parts of the world may be able to see the comet before and after the swing around.

Tonight the comet will linger in the sky a few minutes after the sun sets and will precede the sun above the horizon Thursday morning as the earth's rotation brings them into view.

At both sunset and sunrise around the globe the horizon may block out the sun enough for the comet to stand out clearly, especially if it brightens to predicted intensity.

But comets are unpredictable, say astronomers, and this one is no exception.

Republic Steel Cited For Tax Delinquency

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—Republic Steel Corp. and several downtown businesses owe Ashtabula County $250,000 in delinquent personal property taxes, County Treasurer Howard A. Fortney said Tuesday. He said some property taxes date back to 1950 and he would collect even if he had to go to court.

Republic Steel has filed with the State Tax Commissioner an application for review of the county's $173,998 tax claim. Fortner said tax records show Republic owes the county for stockpiling imported ore on the docks here from 1960-63.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Trustees of Cleveland State University have approved plans for a $5.26 million basic science building, construction to start next summer.

Group's Warned Of Arrests If It Sponsors Bingo

PAINESVILLE, Ohio — Lake County Prosecutor Fred V. Skok has cautioned that members of a veterans' organization will be arrested if they sponsor as advertised a bingo game and "Las Vegas - styled activities" on Nov. 6 at a rented Knights of Columbus Hall in Kirtland Township.

Skok also called for an inquiry into the sponsor, the 145th Infantry Regiment Association, after its leaflets advertising the games appeared in barber shops and other Lake County outlets.

They bill the affair as a "burn the mortgage night" and says it is a benefit for the mentally-retarded children of Greater Cleveland.

Skok said the Ohio Constitution bans bingo as a lottery and that the other games advertised are in violation of Ohio's gambling laws. He said sheriff's deputies and detectives from his office will attend.

Man In Pilgrim Suit Quits As 'Town Crier'

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP) — Every summer for 13 years, Arthur P. Snader has put on a dark Pilgrim suit, complete with a broad white collar and tall, wide-brimmed hat, and marched off bell in hand to announce the tides, weather conditions and local events.

He was the latest in a long line of town criers of Provincetown, a job he says dates back to at least the 18th century.

Now Snader has turned in his round badge of office and retired. He has walked two or three miles every day from Memorial Day to Labor Day and he is "tired out."

Provincetown is at the very tip of Cape Cod, and Snader's job mainly was for the benefit of summer tourists.

Tourists also were his main source of trouble.

"Most of them were pretty nice," Snader says, "but now and then I'd run into one of those amateur comedians."

Snader is 81. He believes the strenuous outdoor life of a town crier may be partially responsible for his good health, but "maybe good liquor has helped."

Town manager Robert Hancock said, "We will have to go a long way to find someone as conscientious as Arthur. He has not missed a day's work since he took the job."

Snader, a blimp pilot in World War I, says he is looking forward to retirement. For one thing, he plans to write a book.

Man Who Claimed He Killed Wife Released

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police have released an unemployed chef from Exeter, N.H., who told homicide detectives he murdered his wife in New Hampshire four months ago. Authorities said Tuesday the shooting of Mrs. John Gillespie was an accident and occurred July 7, 1963, not four months ago.

Gillespie, 29, walked up to a Cleveland Patrolman Monday and said he wanted to confess to the murder of his wife. New Hampshire authorities, who flew here to talk to Gillespie, said there was no reason to hold him.

Astronomers Differing Over Celestial 'Show'

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The comet Ikeya-Seki raced within a few million miles of the sun today — as astronomers differed on whether it will put on the spectacular celestial show forecast for tonight and Thursday morning.

The comet, streaking in from the edge of the solar system, is expected to whip around the sun and start back during a five-hour period beginning at 10 p.m. Pacific Daylight Time.

Astronomers have predicted solar radiation would light up the frozen gases in the comet's 10-million-mile tail and make it visible during sunrise and sunset hours around the globe.

Scientists who tried to observe the comet from a plane over the Pacific Tuesday said it was brightening slowly, however, and might not even be visible to the naked eye tonight.

California Institute of Technology astronomers said the comet might only be following the behavior of a comet which passed near the sun in 1882.

That one virtually disappeared from view for two days before it reached the sun, then turned very bright and exploded into several pieces. This could happen to Ikeya-Seki, the Caltech astronomers said.

The airborne expedition, flying from Honolulu to Midway Island and back, hopes to observe the comet at sunset today when the plane is near Midway and again at sunrise as it approaches Hawaii.

Mid-Pacific is one of the best places to view the comet during its hairpin loop around the sun. The other side of the earth will be in darkness during those hours. The swing-around also may be visible from Hawaii, New Zealand, Australia and parts of Asia.

Other parts of the world may be able to see the comet before and after the swing around.

Tonight the comet will linger in the sky a few minutes after the sun sets and will precede the sun above the horizon Thursday morning as the earth's rotation brings them into view.

At both sunset and sunrise around the globe the horizon may block out the sun enough for the comet to stand out clearly, especially if it brightens to predicted intensity.

But comets are unpredictable, say astronomers, and this one is no exception.

Republic Steel Cited For Tax Delinquency

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—Republic Steel Corp. and several downtown businesses owe Ashtabula County $250,000 in delinquent personal property taxes, County Treasurer Howard A. Fortney said Tuesday. He said some property taxes date back to 1950 and he would collect even if he had to go to court.

Republic Steel has filed with the State Tax Commissioner an application for review of the county's $173,998 tax claim. Fortner said tax records show Republic owes the county for stockpiling imported ore on the docks here from 1960-63.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Trustees of Cleveland State University have approved plans for a $5.26 million basic science building, construction to start next summer.

Group's Warned Of Arrests If It Sponsors Bingo

PAINESVILLE, Ohio — Lake County Prosecutor Fred V. Skok has cautioned that members of a veterans' organization will be arrested if they sponsor as advertised a bingo game and "Las Vegas - styled activities" on Nov. 6 at a rented Knights of Columbus Hall in Kirtland Township.

Skok also called for an inquiry into the sponsor, the 145th Infantry Regiment Association, after its leaflets advertising the games appeared in barber shops and other Lake County outlets.

They bill the affair as a "burn the mortgage night" and says it is a benefit for the mentally-retarded children of Greater Cleveland.

Skok said the Ohio Constitution bans bingo as a lottery and that the other games advertised are in violation of Ohio's gambling laws. He said sheriff's deputies and detectives from his office will attend.

Man In Pilgrim Suit Quits As 'Town Crier'

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP) — Every summer for 13 years, Arthur P. Snader has put on a dark Pilgrim suit, complete with a broad white collar and tall, wide-brimmed hat, and marched off bell in hand to announce the tides, weather conditions and local events.

He was the latest in a long line of town criers of Provincetown, a job he says dates back to at least the 18th century.

Now Snader has turned in his round badge of office and retired. He has walked two or three miles every day from Memorial Day to Labor Day and he is "tired out."

Provincetown is at the very tip of Cape Cod, and Snader's job mainly was for the benefit of summer tourists.

Tourists also were his main source of trouble.

"Most of them were pretty nice," Snader says, "but now and then I'd run into one of those amateur comedians."

Snader is 81. He believes the strenuous outdoor life of a town crier may be partially responsible for his good health, but "maybe good liquor has helped."

Town manager Robert Hancock said, "We will have to go a long way to find someone as conscientious as Arthur. He has not missed a day's work since he took the job."

Snader, a blimp pilot in World War I, says he is looking forward to retirement. For one thing, he plans to write a book.

Man Who Claimed He Killed Wife Released

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police have released an unemployed chef from Exeter, N.H., who told homicide detectives he murdered his wife in New Hampshire four months ago. Authorities said Tuesday the shooting of Mrs. John Gillespie was an accident and occurred July 7, 1963, not four months ago.

Gillespie, 29, walked up to a Cleveland Patrolman Monday and said he wanted to confess to the murder of his wife. New Hampshire authorities, who flew here to talk to Gillespie, said there was no reason to hold him.

Camping, sports and physical development of all types are the chief activities of the YMCA, whose familiar 5-story building has been a landmark at Washington and E. 4th St. for 51 years.

The arm muscle of Ted Kinsey, 10, of Smithfield St. is shown being checked by Jeff Clapsadle, counselor at Pine Ridge Camp where boys and girls spend weeks of outdoor recreation each summer.

The "Y" has been budgeted $30,500 by the United Fund, about 40 per cent of the YMCA operating costs, enabling it to keep down rates for membership, open to all regardless of race or creed.

Men, women, boys and girls are served by the "Y" building which includes a swimming pool, gym, handball court, weight room, running track, various sports equipment, and a Health Club. The structure also has meeting rooms and 48 rooms where men are offered clean quarters at reasonable rates.

'Spell Of Magic' Cast Over Club At Meeting Here

"Magic by Rex" was presented by Rex Goldbach, manager of the Pittsburgh branch office of the Harshaw Chemical Co., at the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

The executive by profession and magician by hobby performed numerous mystifying feats, using ropes, decks of cards and colored cloths as his principle working tools.

Fortifying himself from a seemingly inexhaustible flask under the pretext of drinking to the memory of his "poor grandad", the magician called several "volunteers" from the audience, including Stephen Eibling, E. R. Chandler, Frank Dawson Jr. and Jackman Vodrey, to assist in the execution of several of the tricks.

He impressed the audience by rapidly manufacturing a "Rotary wheel" by tearing out several chunks from a large folded sheet of paper.

In the finale, he amazed those present by forming an American flag from separate red, white and blue cloths.

Harry Thiemecke was program chairman.

Cliff Hindley was welcomed back following his illness. It was announced that Dean Wilhelm is ill.

Cuban Boat Exodus Halts Mysteriously

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The stream of small boats carrying Cuban refugees across the Florida Straits came to a mysterious halt today.

A U.S. Coast Guard spokesman said planes and cutters have sighted no approaching boats in the past 24 hours despite calm seas.

Havana broadcasts gave no hint as to why the exodus has stopped. Ten boats carrying 160 refugees arrived here Monday and Tuesday.

Both the Cuban radio and exiles who have arrived in the past few days said the Camarioca embarkation port is crowded with boats from Florida waiting to pick up passengers. The radio made no mention of recent departures.

However, a spokesman for the Cuban Foreign Ministry announced that 11 U.S. newsmen who went to the island to cover the refugees' departure have been asked to leave on the ground their work is finished.

Though the statement that the newsmen's work is over might indicate an end to the exodus, Cuban officials also said the 11 are waiting at Camarioca for transportation to Florida on refugee boats.

Many exiles in Miami have said they are fearful that Fidel Castro will threaten to cancel departures unless those opposed to his regime halt their efforts to overthrow him.

For this reason, they say, they are hastening to get relatives and friends out of Cuba without awaiting negotiations by the United States to establish an orderly exodus.

How Can I?

ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I clean a parchment lampshade?

A.—You can often do a good job of cleaning by rubbing gently over the shade with a fresh piece of white bread—or an artgum eraser.

Q.—Do you have any suggestions for inking long, curved lines with a ruling pen when one does not have the proper utensils at hand?

A.—You could try using an ordinary wire clothes hanger, which you can bend to the desired arc or curve. An added feature of this wire is its roundness, which prevents your ink from creeping under and causing a blot.

Q.—How can I create an old ivory finish on woodwork or furniture?

A.—Tint with light ivory paint with raw sienna or burnt umber. After this apply a glaze coat of raw sienna mixed with burnt umber, and then wipe lightly.

4-H Sessions Set In Saddle Horse Projects In '66

LISBON — Four training meetings for 4-H'ers with 4-H saddle horse projects are being planned for 1966.

The saddle horse committee met recently and decided to hold training meetings similar to those last year. The meetings will be held in February, April, May and July. The subjects to be discussed will include general horse and pony care, judging and horsemanship.

The group discussed the procedure to be followed with the 4-H judging team. The judging team will be limited to older members. Three preliminary training meetings will be held prior to the area judging contest.

Walter Holmes of Winona will be working with the judging team.

The committee reviewed the problem of the shortage of advisers but no definite recommendations were made. A considerable number of 4-H - age young persons are being turned down because of a lack of adult leadership in various communities, the 4-H office said.

Sargus Receives Committee Post

COLUMBUS — Sen. Edmund A. Sargus of Bellaire today was appointed chairman of a special study committee of the Legislative Service Commission.

The committee also will be concerned with the practical application of modern theories of criminology and jurisprudence to the Ohio system.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: So many of you write to me wanting to know the proper way to wash Fiberglas that I called the manufacturers, and had a long talk with them.

Gail Palmer has set down, in simple words, the following complete instruction for you to follow to prolong the life of your beautiful materials. This includes curtains or draperies you might purchase made of Fiberglas. The new Fiberglas Beta bedspreds are a different matter. These can be machine washed. Be sure to follow the directions in the package.

"Never wash any of your personal articles with Fiberglas fabrics.

"Wash your Fiberglas draperies as you would a fine wool sweater. Wash them in a tub with a mild or cold water soap. Do not wash along with other fabrics.

-:-

"DETERGENTS of any type must NEVER be used. Chemical agents found in detergents sometimes harms the finish on a Fiberglas fabric. Always use a PURE soap.

"If you do not wish to handle your draperies yourself, contact a reputable commercial laundry in your vicinity, and request that they wet wash them for you.

"If you have cause to bleach your draperies, use a solution of Sodium Perborate from your druggist. When using Sodium Perborate, dissolve four ounces in a tub full of water.

"Fiberglas should be installed so that it clears the floor, ceiling, and any projection such as a window sill, in order to avoid constant friction.

"When sewing Fiberglas curtains and draperies, experiment first with a piece of the material that you will be working with. Use the longest, loosest stitch applicable to your material. Experience has indicated that this will vary from eight to 10 stitches per inch. Fewer stitches are used for heavier fabrics, more for sheer and open weaves.

-:-

"WE RECOMMEND a fine-quality mercerized cotton thread and a sharp needle.

"The selvage on Fiberglas fabrics will not shrink, so it is unnecessary to remove it. When sewing multiple widths, to make a "French" seam:

"After the widths have been stitched together, both selvages may be turned to one side (no need to turn them under) and top stitched, thus making a false French seam. Side seams can be made using the selvage.

"Fiberglas will not absorb dye, just as it will not absorb soil. You may tint Fiberglas, although the tinting will not be permanent. Your tint will wash out with the first laundering; therefore, many homemakers choose to retint with each washing.

The pigment dyes applied to the fabric when your purchase it are heat set in the manufacturing process for permanence and also resistance to fading".

GAIL PALMER.

-:-

NEVER put Fiberglas draperies or curtains in your washing machine nor in a dryer that tumbles.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Have you ever taken a pincushion apart and found dozens of needles lost in there?

To solve this problem, I put my needles on the pincushion crosswise instead of straight in. I never lose a needle.

The pins are inserted in the usual way.

MARY CASTRO.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: An old door knob would not stay in place, so I placed a piece of nylon net on the shank, rubbed on some metal glue, and replaced the knob. I trimmed off the protuding edges of net with a razor blade, and the job was completed.

One year has passed, and the knob is still in place.

HOMEMAKER.

DEAR HELOISE: I don't find fancy spoon rests very practical . . . especially when cooking a number of foods at the same time.

Instead, I use a large paper plate which will accommodate all the spoons and forks I need, and when I'm through, out goes the plate, with no fuss or muss.

I like this idea — perhaps your readers will too.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Ed Is Really Live And Colorful

CBS stretched everyne's credulity a few weeks ago with its announcement that Ed Sullivan henceforth would be "live and in color."

Hal Humphrey

Except for those annual romps with Judy Garland and her rainbow in "The Wizard of Oz" movie, CBS never before admitted there was such a thing as color TV. As for a "live" Ed Sullivan, any Las Vegas gambler gives 10-1 there is no such animal. But CBS and Ed have fooled the skeptics and the gamblers. For the past five Sundays the network has been beaming the Sullivan show from its Hollywood studios in color and "live."

-:-

ED SAYS the color cameras erase the bags under his eyes. His friends haven't the heart to tell him he has turned bluer under the gills and that Forest Lawn Cemetery is trying to buy commercials on the show.

However, there is absolutely no truth to the rumor that Ed has gone Hollywood. A deep maroon dress coat is as wild as he will go. Most New Yorkers staying here as long as Ed already are wearing olive suede shoes, brass-buttoned sports jackets with breast-pocket insignia denoting nothing, Ivy League slacks and flowered Hawaiian shirts.

Ed is used to Hollywood and its vagarish ways. He's been coming here since 1937 and likes to recall that was the year Bob Hope made his first movie.

-:-

"BOB AND HIS WIFE, Dolores, didn't know if they should plan to stay here or not, because the picture might be a flop. I had a friend at Paramount and we saw some of the rushes. After that I called Bob and told him he'd better stay. The picture was 'The Big Broadcast of 1938.'"

Later the same year Ed played an exhibition golf match for charity with Hope, Bing Crosby and Hollywood columnist Jimmy Fidler. Ed was a Broadway columnist then, and if anyone had tried to convince Hope and Crosby at the time that Ed some day would be a show business personality in his own right, he either would have died laughing or crying.

I played golf with Ed this week on the same Lakeside course where he had that match with Hope, Crosby and Fidler. It's 28 years later and Ed is 62 now, but he still hits a golf ball farther than I can and I'm just a middle-aged stripling.

-:-

IF ED was as animated before a camera as he is on a golf course, Hope might have used him for those "Road" pictures instead of Crosby.

Besides a running line of patter sprinkled with some atrocious puns, Ed has a way of addressing a golf ball which causes those playing with him to wonder what they've been doing wrong.

As he bends over the ball, Ed shakes his head three or four times as if in disbelief that anything that small could be hit. On the fourth shake he kind of shrugs both shoulders, as if saying to himself, "Oh, what the hell, I'll give it a try," then smacks it right down the middle of the fairway.

He sinks 10- and 15-foot putts with that same head-shaking move. Along about the fifth or sixth hole, I found myself trying it and missing the ball completely.

IT SUDDENLY occurred to me that Ed employs this same kind of gamesmanship on his TV show. After 17 years of running his own network TV show, nobody could come on stage looking as scared and inept as Ed pretends to look.

But that's how he engenders all that sympathy from his TV audience saying to itself, "Gee, there's poor Ed up there trying to muddle his way through another show, so let's give him a hand to encourage him, huh."

Well, he's not going to fool me any more—at least not on a golf course. I won't look until I hear the crack of the ball being hit, then I'll step to my own ball, shake my head three or four times and go back to the clubhouse.

Contractor's Fined On Work Conditions

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A Dayton contractor, found guilty of failing to provide safe working conditions for his employes at a sewer project in which a worker was killed, has been fined $1,000 and costs. The county court judge suspended all but $250 of the fine.

Davis Robinson had withdrawn a plea of innocent made earlier and pleaded no contest at the trial. The case arose from the death of Robert Williams of Dayton, one of Robinson's employes, who was trapped in a cave-in and died while working on a sewer project Sept. 20.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Ed Is Really Live And Colorful

CBS stretched everyne's credulity a few weeks ago with its announcement that Ed Sullivan henceforth would be "live and in color."

Hal Humphrey

Except for those annual romps with Judy Garland and her rainbow in "The Wizard of Oz" movie, CBS never before admitted there was such a thing as color TV. As for a "live" Ed Sullivan, any Las Vegas gambler gives 10-1 there is no such animal. But CBS and Ed have fooled the skeptics and the gamblers. For the past five Sundays the network has been beaming the Sullivan show from its Hollywood studios in color and "live."

-:-

ED SAYS the color cameras erase the bags under his eyes. His friends haven't the heart to tell him he has turned bluer under the gills and that Forest Lawn Cemetery is trying to buy commercials on the show.

However, there is absolutely no truth to the rumor that Ed has gone Hollywood. A deep maroon dress coat is as wild as he will go. Most New Yorkers staying here as long as Ed already are wearing olive suede shoes, brass-buttoned sports jackets with breast-pocket insignia denoting nothing, Ivy League slacks and flowered Hawaiian shirts.

Ed is used to Hollywood and its vagarish ways. He's been coming here since 1937 and likes to recall that was the year Bob Hope made his first movie.

-:-

"BOB AND HIS WIFE, Dolores, didn't know if they should plan to stay here or not, because the picture might be a flop. I had a friend at Paramount and we saw some of the rushes. After that I called Bob and told him he'd better stay. The picture was 'The Big Broadcast of 1938.'"

Later the same year Ed played an exhibition golf match for charity with Hope, Bing Crosby and Hollywood columnist Jimmy Fidler. Ed was a Broadway columnist then, and if anyone had tried to convince Hope and Crosby at the time that Ed some day would be a show business personality in his own right, he either would have died laughing or crying.

I played golf with Ed this week on the same Lakeside course where he had that match with Hope, Crosby and Fidler. It's 28 years later and Ed is 62 now, but he still hits a golf ball farther than I can and I'm just a middle-aged stripling.

-:-

IF ED was as animated before a camera as he is on a golf course, Hope might have used him for those "Road" pictures instead of Crosby.

Besides a running line of patter sprinkled with some atrocious puns, Ed has a way of addressing a golf ball which causes those playing with him to wonder what they've been doing wrong.

As he bends over the ball, Ed shakes his head three or four times as if in disbelief that anything that small could be hit. On the fourth shake he kind of shrugs both shoulders, as if saying to himself, "Oh, what the hell, I'll give it a try," then smacks it right down the middle of the fairway.

He sinks 10- and 15-foot putts with that same head-shaking move. Along about the fifth or sixth hole, I found myself trying it and missing the ball completely.

IT SUDDENLY occurred to me that Ed employs this same kind of gamesmanship on his TV show. After 17 years of running his own network TV show, nobody could come on stage looking as scared and inept as Ed pretends to look.

But that's how he engenders all that sympathy from his TV audience saying to itself, "Gee, there's poor Ed up there trying to muddle his way through another show, so let's give him a hand to encourage him, huh."

Well, he's not going to fool me any more—at least not on a golf course. I won't look until I hear the crack of the ball being hit, then I'll step to my own ball, shake my head three or four times and go back to the clubhouse.

Junior Editors Quiz on NAILS

QUESTION: Why are different-sized nails called by pennies?

ANSWER: Your father might say to you "run down to the hardware store and get me two pounds of 4-penny nails." This wouldn't mean you'd pay four cents for the two pounds of nails. The clerk would go to the bin where 1-½ inch nails were kept, pick up a handful and weigh out two pounds of them to give you. You can see from this that "penny", as we use the term, refers only to length—although the longer nails are naturally heavier. Our illustration shows the penny names with lengths in inches.

Originally, the term penny had a different meaning. Nails began to be widely sold in England in the 1400's, and the sizes were spoken of by what price a hundred nails of each size should be. The price for a small nail about an inch long would be two pennies for one hundred, so they called it a two penny (or as the English would say, tuppenny) nail. Larger sizes were 3-penny, 4-penny, 5-penny and so on. "Penny" also referred to the weight of the nail, for about a thousand penny nails made up one pound, and if you bought a pound of 4-penny nails, there would be about 400. As manufacturing processes became standardized, the exact length of the nail became called by the penny name, rather than the number you could get by spending a certain number of pennies.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Memorize this principle used by carpenters to nail two boards together: use a nail long enough to go through the first plank and a bit over half way into the bottom one. Try this out with a couple of pieces of board.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Chores At Home Teach Responsibility

The average child in the so-called good home rarely does any chores. You have read in newspapers, magazines, books and heard on the air statements bemoaning the passing of motives for children to do chores at home and share in the drudgeries and responsibilities there. These bemoanings run like this: In the pioneer home all the children naturally shared in the work there. They had to help in order to exist. They carried water from the spring or well, split kindling and filled the woodbox or carried out ashes. But in the modern home there is no water to carry, no woodbox to fill or ashes to carry out—just nothing for a child to do.

Dr. Garry Myers

NONSENSE! There still are beds to make, rooms to tidy up, furniture to dust, porches to sweep or scrub, potatoes to peel and other foods to prepare for cooking. Besides foods must be carried to the table and it must be cleared afterwards and the kitchen tidied up. If there is a dishwasher, somebody must stack the dishes and remove them later.

There are lot of things in the average home which children can and ought to do, but rarely do. With all the modern convenience, the mother does most of these things in the average home; and as she gets more helping gadgets she takes over their operation more and more and the children do less.

Fewer and fewer homes have maids, and when they have a weekday and the weekend off, as a rule, do the children take over then? Rarely. Their mother does. No sense in talking about no chores for children in the modern home. These children are just not trained to take home responsibilities.

MOST parents are scared of their children who say, "Other kids don't have chores." Parent are afraid to be different from the rank and file of other parents. Besides, most parents have been brainwashed by prestigious writers to believe they should make every chore so attractive to the child that he will want to do it.

Parents believing this have tried and have discovered that it doesn't work. They need to get the work done at home, so they do it themselves, finding it so much easier to do it than to get the children to do it.

A few parents try to get children to do chores by paying them on a kind of piecework basis. These parents suppose, moreover, that the child will gain thereby a better sense of money value. But before long parents discover the youngster is not earning his allowance and begin to yak at him for not doing so.

Rarely has paying children for chores worked well. Anyway the child needs to learn that he has an obligation to help in the family becaue he is a member of it.

AIM TO have the child take care of himself and wait on himself from the time he is able to do so. When in his preschool years or later when he volunteers to help, express great appreciation. Just figure that as he grows older he will incline to volunteer less and less.

At five or six begin to require him to make his own bed and tidy up his own room, with your inspection and supervision. After their entering school, assign each child a few regular definite jobs he is able to do well—just a few at first, more later.

Don't ask him each day or tell him when to do these jobs or keep telling him till he does them. Refuse to argue. Set a penalty for derelection. An effective one is to require him to sit unamused doing nothing where you can see him for 30 to 60 minutes according to age.

Consider yourself successful when you never need to tell your child when to do the job or argue with him, when he does it as surely as he breathes. Make inevitability your watchword.

My bulletins, "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" and "How to Teach Child to Help at Home," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Elderly Woman Remains Serious After Auto Wreck

An elderly Wellsville woman remains in "serious" condition today at the Butler County (Pa.) Memorial Hospital, where her daughter also is a patient, from injuries received Sunday night when their car struck a parked pickup truck on Route 68, a mile north of Butler.

Mrs. Grace O. Creese, 991 Main St., is being treated for a concussion, spinal and hip injuries and facial lacerations received in the mishap about 10:30 p. m. as she and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Creese, 51, were returning home from Cook's Forest.

Pennsylvania State Police said Miss Creese was headed south on Route 68 when she apparently dozed at the wheel and the car went onto the berm, traveled 58 feet before hitting a road sign and then continued and struck the truck parked along the edge of the highway.

Police estimated $800 damage to the Creese auto and about $250 to the truck.

Some rats seem to have an innate or inherited fear of the smell of cats. Other rats lack this fear, but have an inherited fear of the sight of snakes. Biologists speculate that similar innate fears may exist in human beings.

Servicemen Like Homemade Items In Yule Package

What do servicemen overseas want in their Christmas packages?

Homemade items are first on the list, according to a Red Cross survey of military forces.

Norman Nicely, chairman of the Area Red Cross Chapter, said the men enjoy cake, cookies and candy, not just because they are tasty, "but because such homemade gifts carry the personal interest of the sender and demonstrate the love and care of those who took time to prepare them."

Supplies for their practical needs can be purchased by servicemen at base exchanges more inexpensively than relatives can buy them in this country, Nicely pointed out.

"But no serviceman can buy the thought and personal effort in such gifts as handknit sweaters, cookies and other items," he said.

The Red Cross joins with U. S. postal officials in urging area residents to mail Christmas packages early.

Surface mail should be sent to APO points overseas between from now until Nov. 10. Airmail parcels should be sent between Dec. 1 and Dec. 10.

Nicely said families with men in Viet Nam or the Far East should mail packages this week if by surface carrier or by Dec. 1 if by air mail.

Wrap a piece of colored cloth around your index finger on your left hand before you start hem-stitching by hand. You can then see the threads that you aim to pick up better as they lay over the finger. Tweezers are a great aid in pulling threads in material prior to hemstitching.

British Royalty Due To Hear Benny Again

LONDON (AP)—Jack Benny is making a return engagement before British royalty.

The American comedian appeared before King George VI at a royal variety performance in 1950, and before Queen Mother Elizabeth in 1961. He was booked to appear before Queen Elizabeth Nov. 8 at this year's royal variety show. Proceeds go to the variety vaudeville benevolent fund.

Other Americans booked are singer Tony Bennett and the trio Peter, Paul and Mary.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Chores At Home Teach Responsibility

The average child in the so-called good home rarely does any chores. You have read in newspapers, magazines, books and heard on the air statements bemoaning the passing of motives for children to do chores at home and share in the drudgeries and responsibilities there. These bemoanings run like this: In the pioneer home all the children naturally shared in the work there. They had to help in order to exist. They carried water from the spring or well, split kindling and filled the woodbox or carried out ashes. But in the modern home there is no water to carry, no woodbox to fill or ashes to carry out—just nothing for a child to do.

NONSENSE! There still are beds to make, rooms to tidy up, furniture to dust, porches to sweep or scrub, potatoes to peel and other foods to prepare for cooking. Besides foods must be carried to the table and it must be cleared afterwards and the kitchen tidied up. If there is a dishwasher, somebody must stack the dishes and remove them later.

There are lot of things in the average home which children can and ought to do, but rarely do. With all the modern convenience, the mother does most of these things in the average home; and as she gets more helping gadgets she takes over their operation more and more and the children do less.

Fewer and fewer homes have maids, and when they have a weekday and the weekend off, as a rule, do the children take over then? Rarely. Their mother does. No sense in talking about no chores for children in the modern home. These children are just not trained to take home responsibilities.

MOST parents are scared of their children who say, "Other kids don't have chores." Parent are afraid to be different from the rank and file of other parents. Besides, most parents have been brainwashed by prestigious writers to believe they should make every chore so attractive to the child that he will want to do it.

Parents believing this have tried and have discovered that it doesn't work. They need to get the work done at home, so they do it themselves, finding it so much easier to do it than to get the children to do it.

A few parents try to get children to do chores by paying them on a kind of piecework basis. These parents suppose, moreover, that the child will gain thereby a better sense of money value. But before long parents discover the youngster is not earning his allowance and begin to yak at him for not doing so.

Rarely has paying children for chores worked well. Anyway the child needs to learn that he has an obligation to help in the family becaue he is a member of it.

AIM TO have the child take care of himself and wait on himself from the time he is able to do so. When in his preschool years or later when he volunteers to help, express great appreciation. Just figure that as he grows older he will incline to volunteer less and less.

At five or six begin to require him to make his own bed and tidy up his own room, with your inspection and supervision. After their entering school, assign each child a few regular definite jobs he is able to do well—just a few at first, more later.

Don't ask him each day or tell him when to do these jobs or keep telling him till he does them. Refuse to argue. Set a penalty for derelection. An effective one is to require him to sit unamused doing nothing where you can see him for 30 to 60 minutes according to age.

Consider yourself successful when you never need to tell your child when to do the job or argue with him, when he does it as surely as he breathes. Make inevitability your watchword.

My bulletins, "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" and "How to Teach Child to Help at Home," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Elderly Woman Remains Serious After Auto Wreck

An elderly Wellsville woman remains in "serious" condition today at the Butler County (Pa.) Memorial Hospital, where her daughter also is a patient, from injuries received Sunday night when their car struck a parked pickup truck on Route 68, a mile north of Butler.

Mrs. Grace O. Creese, 991 Main St., is being treated for a concussion, spinal and hip injuries and facial lacerations received in the mishap about 10:30 p. m. as she and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Creese, 51, were returning home from Cook's Forest.

Pennsylvania State Police said Miss Creese was headed south on Route 68 when she apparently dozed at the wheel and the car went onto the berm, traveled 58 feet before hitting a road sign and then continued and struck the truck parked along the edge of the highway.

Police estimated $800 damage to the Creese auto and about $250 to the truck.

Some rats seem to have an innate or inherited fear of the smell of cats. Other rats lack this fear, but have an inherited fear of the sight of snakes. Biologists speculate that similar innate fears may exist in human beings.

Servicemen Like Homemade Items In Yule Package

What do servicemen overseas want in their Christmas packages?

Homemade items are first on the list, according to a Red Cross survey of military forces.

Norman Nicely, chairman of the Area Red Cross Chapter, said the men enjoy cake, cookies and candy, not just because they are tasty, "but because such homemade gifts carry the personal interest of the sender and demonstrate the love and care of those who took time to prepare them."

Supplies for their practical needs can be purchased by servicemen at base exchanges more inexpensively than relatives can buy them in this country, Nicely pointed out.

"But no serviceman can buy the thought and personal effort in such gifts as handknit sweaters, cookies and other items," he said.

The Red Cross joins with U. S. postal officials in urging area residents to mail Christmas packages early.

Surface mail should be sent to APO points overseas between from now until Nov. 10. Airmail parcels should be sent between Dec. 1 and Dec. 10.

Nicely said families with men in Viet Nam or the Far East should mail packages this week if by surface carrier or by Dec. 1 if by air mail.

Wrap a piece of colored cloth around your index finger on your left hand before you start hem-stitching by hand. You can then see the threads that you aim to pick up better as they lay over the finger. Tweezers are a great aid in pulling threads in material prior to hemstitching.

British Royalty Due To Hear Benny Again

LONDON (AP)—Jack Benny is making a return engagement before British royalty.

The American comedian appeared before King George VI at a royal variety performance in 1950, and before Queen Mother Elizabeth in 1961. He was booked to appear before Queen Elizabeth Nov. 8 at this year's royal variety show. Proceeds go to the variety vaudeville benevolent fund.

Other Americans booked are singer Tony Bennett and the trio Peter, Paul and Mary.

Traditional Calling

His heritage in the ministry is on the paternal side. In addition to his father, grandfather and great - grandfather, two uncle are also pastors.
